COMPANY I HAS THREE DRILLS

Capt. Charles Womack In Charge; Attendance 100 Per Cent

Company "I", 198th Infantry under the command of Capt. Charles M. Womack has had three impressive drills over Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of this week which ends the first quarter of drills. The attendance mark to date has been 100 per cent and this record has been maintained by the interesting field of events covered.

The opening night, Tuesday, was devoted to "The School of the Soldier," "Company Organization" and "Infantry Orientation." Wednesday night the lectures of the previous night were put into effect and provided much interesting information above the routine drills. Eight men were enlisted at this meeting and the names are as follows: Daniel Ethridge, Wilbert DeLancey, Robert McGee, H. D. Shaw, Vincent R. Sylvester, Donald Murphy, Frank Morris, and Arnold Jackson.

Thursday night, Company "I", in conjunction with companies "K" and "L", 198th Infantry Headquarters Company, 198th Infantry viewed the following orientation films: "Tale of Two Cities," "The Atomic Bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki," "Individual Concealment, the Skilled Art of Camouflage," "Newfoundland Communications," "Introduction to the Army, the processing of the civilian to soldier," and "At the Front in North Africa," and film of conditions on the fighting line.

In the coming week part of the training schedule calls for nomenclature of the U. S. Cal. 30 M-1 rifle, the carbine cal. 30 and the .45 automatic pistol. These lectures will be interesting due to having actual training aids present. The training is given by officers and men who have had combat

5 SORORITIES ADD MEMBERS

26 Are Pledged To Various Groups At Louisiana Tech

RUSTON, La., March 1.—(Special)—Twenty-six women students have been pledged by five sororities at Louisiana Tech, concluding spring semester rushing activities by women's Greek-letter social organizations at the college.

Alpha Chi Omega, Sigma Kappa and Phi Mu each added six pledges to the chapter rolls. Five students were pledged by Theta Upsilon, and three became pledges of Kappa Delta.

Those pledged are as follows:

Alpha Chi Omega—Mary Lou Anthony, El Dorado, Ark.; Marjorie Beale, Farmerville; Mary Claire McCall, Bernice; Martha Jane Mitchell, Ruston; Dorothy Tanner, Haynesville; Eunice Wilson, Rayville.

Sigma Kappa—Carolyn Hendrickson, Texarkana, Texas; Bonnie Gaston, Shreveport; Betty Ann Miller, Monroe; Billy McCalla, Shreveport; June Smith, Shreveport; Betty Babers, Homer.

Phi Mu—Eloise Brown, Delhi; Sybil Kelly, Shreveport; Kathryn May, Baton Rouge; Nella Ray Lunsford, Minden; Nelwyn Sledge, Shreveport; Betty Jean Smith, Minden.

Theta Upsilon—Ione Worsham, Shreveport; Celia Faye Waller, Haynesville; Sally Masingill, Alexandria; Mary Kathryn Perry, Jamestown; Madolyn Osborne, El Dorado, Ark.

Kappa Delta—Kathleen Thompson, Bastrop; Edna Carolyn Briggs, Oak Grove, and Margaret Durrett, Arcadia.

One out of every three children who die under 14 years of age dies as the result of an accident.

LOCAL DELTA HEAD MEETS WITH SCOUTS

Clyde Millar, local Delta Airline manager, is meeting regularly with boys of the Twin Cities who are interested in organizing an Air Scout squadron. This part of the Boy Scouts of America program is open to young men of 15 years or older, and offers a specialized training program in the aviation field, Mr. Millar said.

The Monroe Exchange Club is sponsoring the group, which meets at the Delta Air Line office at Selman Field at 7:30 p. m., Thursday. Any boy is welcome to come into the squadron who is interested, and wants to really make something of the outfit, Mr. Millar stated.

An unlimited amount of equipment is available, and Jack Hover, CAA representative, is giving full cooperation. Boys who desire information concerning air scouting may phone Mr. Millar at Selman Field or contact the Boy Scout office.

SPEEDING CAR STRIKES CHILD, DRIVER JAILED

RAYVILLE, March 1.—(Special)—On a warrant charging "negligent injury and passing a school bus while loading children," Everett Ernest Baggett of Mississippi, was held in Richland parish jail here today, pending the posting of a $1,000 bond, while in the Teen clinic at Delhi a seven-year-old school girl lies painfully, if not seriously injured.

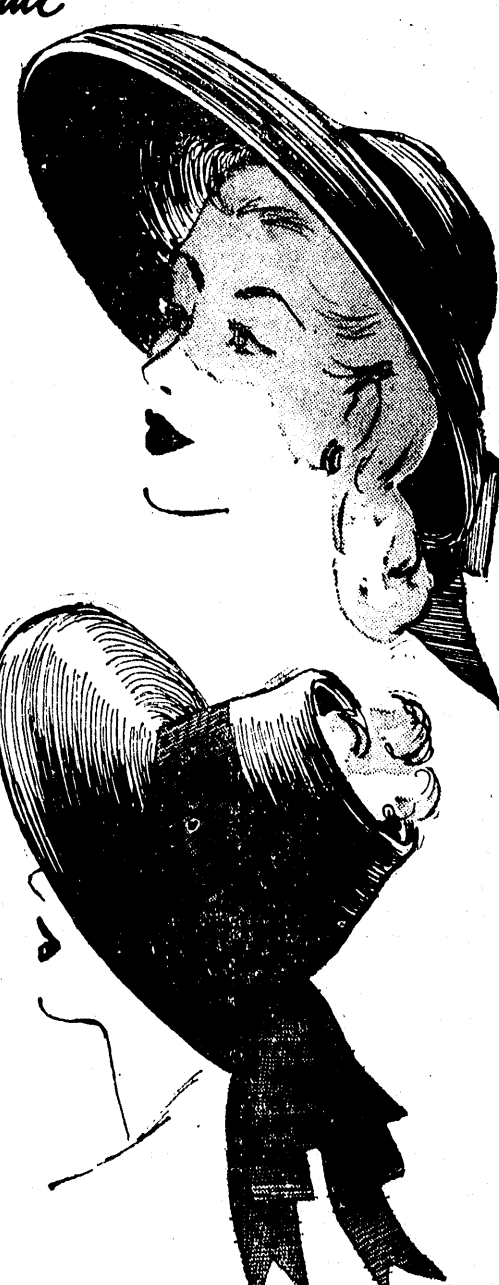

It is reported that Baggett, was traveling east on highway 80 at 8:30 a. m., Friday when, near Dunn, he came upon a school bus loading children. The bus was headed towards Delhi and two cars had come to a stop behind the bus with another car, headed west, also stopped, all awaiting the loading of the children.

It is alleged that when Baggett, who is said to have been driving at a rapid rate of speed, came upon the bus, he was unable to stop. He pulled his car into a ditch, passing to the right of the bus, and striking the child who was getting aboard.

The child's name was said to be Dickey.

Basil I. czar of Moscow, lost his nose during a fight and thenceforth wore one made of putty.

Russia's Atomic Secrets

The statement of Dr. Werner Heisenberg, German atomic scientist, that three of his most eminent German colleagues are working for the Russians is not unbelievable, or even surprising. Neither is his claim that after reading the Smythe report he knew "exactly what was done, except for some small technical details," in making the American atomic bomb.

There is an interesting comment on this piece of news—though the comment preceded the news—in Louis Ridenour's review of a new biography of Albert Einstein in the New York Times.

Said Mr. Ridenour: "Nuclear physics, one of the most recondite branches of fundamental science, is currently a political football. We are now beset with spy-mania and love of secrecy to such an extent that it will come as a distinct shock to the public, three or four years hence, when the first atomic bomb is set off by Russia."

"This phenomenon will be attributed to 'leaks' of information from disaffected scientists, not to the well-known fact that men who ask a given question of nature always get the same answer, whatever their nationality."

One may disagree with Mr. Ridenour's dim view of the future without quarreling with the soundness of his observation. For it does seem evident that most of our atomic secrets must be in the fields of engineering and production, rather than on physical research.

Even those of us who know as little about isotopes and neutrons as Senator McKellar must suspect at times that the Russians at least know how to make an atomic bomb. It would be more pertinent, perhaps, to know whether they have the raw materials, power, and huge industrial setup necessary for the undertaking.

Then there is always the possibility that Russian scientists, with German help, are seeking a different source of atomic energy and cheaper ways of releasing and controlling it.

In other words, Russia has some atomic secrets of her own. And it is up to our own scientists to keep alert and on the job until an international system of atomic energy control is set up and functioning. If we are ahead, we must keep ahead. And perhaps our continuing intensive research will be the best form of espionage as long as secrets about atomic matters exist.

Present indications are that this research is being interrupted by the drawn-out Senate committee investigation of Mr. Lilienthal's fitness to head the Atomic Energy Commission. Scientists complain that their work is suffering, because they don't know what will happen next and because they are made apprehensive by the type of attack directed against the proposed chairman.

The members of the commission themselves have been spending most of their days at the Capitol since the hearings began. They have only a short time in the morning and evening to study, evaluate, and direct the whole vast business of atomic research and industry. The rest of the time they listen to testimony and argument about whether Mr. Lilienthal is guilty of being a Communist, a New Dealer, or a champion of public ownership. And time's a-wasting.

FRANK MERRIWELL WAS A BUM

Our story begins in Pittston, Pa. Young Charles Trippi, graduating from high school, now ponders his choice of a higher institution. The candle burns late in the modest Trippi home as Charles eagerly scans college catalogs. To him come wise men, counseling on his choice. At last he decides, departs for the halls of learning. And none too soon, either, for the University of Georgia at Athens is almost one thousand miles southward.

Soon young Charles discovers there is more to college than books. He goes out for the football team. The cheers of the crowd, the adulation of his classmates—and other rewards—are sweet indeed to the lad from Pittston, Pa.

War clouds gather. In 1941 the U. S. is attacked. In 1943 Charles Trippi trades his muleskins for the olive drab. Charles is still Stateside when the war ends. Miraculously and despite a small number of discharge points, he is back at Georgia in time for the 1945 football season. Other schools charge Georgia's senators have speeded Charles' release from the army, but this is dismissed as being too childish to answer.

Charles prepares to graduate. Again he is sorely puzzled. Can he obtain a job that will support his family? Doctor? Lawyer? Merchant?

He decides to start at the bottom. He joins the Chicago Cardinals' football team. He is to receive $100,000 for four years. Also, he is negotiating a deal with a major league baseball team that will net him another nice, round figure.

A bright future is predicted for this young man from Pittston, Pa., and Athens, Ga.

OVERPLAY DUST BOWL

In a discussion of soil erosion in the Southwest, Charles E. Kellogg, chief of the division of soil survey, asserts many popular writers have exaggerated the bad aspect of soil erosion which occurs in the Great Plains area. There is no denying that the dust bowl was bad. There is no denying that men and animals suffered and that crops blew away, causing many to leave the area.

But there was plenty of zeal shown in hunting pictures. Anybody can go to a lonely spot in Oklahoma or Kansas and find a cow's skeleton. Anybody can find an old unpainted shack with forlorn equipment stacked about it.

All of this was to be expected in its day, but publications still appear now and then in which the old pictures are featured. Some farmers have become rich since dust bowl days and certainly wheat growers in the area have done quite well. But as long as those old pictures continue to make the rounds and as long as editors think the dust bowl still is a hell hole of torture, the area is destined to suffer a black eye now and then.

Jimmie Fidler IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, March 1.—Weren't Peggy Ryan and Jimmy Cross secretly hitched in Mexico two months ago? Pals think so. . . . Real reason for Tommy Dorsey's decision to disband his orchestra is a feud with his booking agent agent commissions. . . . MGM is bidding heavy sugar for screen rights to "Tintin's Rainbow" as a starring vehicle for Judy Garland. . . . The Jack Carsons have confirmed this column's report that they're reconciling.

Gosh! Mickey Rooney's current "in person" stint at Lew's State, New York City, is paying him $12,500 a week! . . . Mrs. Louis Prima will seek a Reno divorce from her band leader spouse. . . . Hear Dorothy Lamour plans to enter John-Hopkins this spring for a complete physical check-up. . . . Altar-bour Kitty Kallen, former thrush with Harry James' band, and orchestra leader Elliot Lawrence. . . . Frank Morgan will skipper his 70-foot schooner, Dolphin II, in next summer's California-to-Honolulu race.

David Street and Marilyn Maxwell, who weren't speaking last month, are hand-holding again. . . . Now it's the Prohibitionists who are threatening to boycott Hollywood pictures featuring heavy guzzling scenes. . . . Monly Woolley has been linked for the role of Henry VIII in J. Arthur Rank's British production, "Anne of Cleves." Understand that one major studio has offered the Duke of Windsor $500,000 for screen rights to his contemplated autobiography. . . . Marriage-minded: Jimmy Durante and Marjorie Little, Broadway actress.

PREVIEW NIGHTS: Pic of a bumper week: RKO's "The Farmers' Daughters." Loretta Young-Joseph Cotton-Edith Barrymore. . . . Picture see attraction for everyone who likes to laugh. . . . RECOMMENDED: MGM's "The Beginning Or The End" (Brian Donlevy-Robert Walker-Tom Drake). The story of the atomic bomb, interesting enough to produce a big bang at the box office. . . . Warner Brothers' "Pursued" (Teresa Wright-Robert Mitchum-Judith Anderson). Red-blooded action melodrama without a dull moment. . . . Paramount's "My Favorite Brunette" (Bob Hope-Dorothy Lamour). Travesty, with Bob Hope at his best, as a comedy detective. . . . GOOD: "United Artists' "Dangerous Venture" (William Boyd-Andy Clyde). Hopalong Cassidy foils another villain with his usual dispatch. . . . NOT SO GOOD: RKO's "Beat the Band" (Frances Langford-Ralph Edwards-Phillip Terry). Oops.

IN WASHINGTON

By Peter Edson
(NRA Washington Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, (NRA)—When Paul C. Hoffman, president of the National Labor Relations Board, and chairman of the Committee for Economic Development, unveiled the CED research report on how to make collective bargaining in labor disputes more effective, he admitted he had found no four-year procedure.

"There is no royal road to industrial harmony," said Hoffman.
The two labor committees of Congress, after hearing hundreds of witnesses give conflicting testimony on how to achieve labor peace, should be off on a procedure coming to the same conclusion.

Included in the CED group of 11 top-flight business executives with seven of the country's best economists and industrial relations experts as advisers were such men as Eric Johnstone, chairman of the picture industry; Harry A. Bullis of General Mills; Fowler McCormick of International Harvester; Philip D. Reed of General Electric; William A. Patterson of United Airlines; J. Douglas Brown, of Procter and Gamble; and Sumner H. Schiffer of Harvard.

No Magic Formula.
When they sat down to work last December, they thought they could dash off some recommendations in a hot minute. At the end of their week-long meeting—two months later—all were ready to agree they had changed their minds completely. They had to admit there was no magic formula for achieving labor peace.

When intelligent men come to this conclusion, there is real hope that progress is being made.
This is not at all a defeatist conclusion. "We were not too dismayed that collective bargaining has not worked before," says Mr. Hoffman.

"But strikes are too costly for all of us," he continued. "and management and labor cannot resist the pressure of public opinion when it can't do this or that."
"Collective bargaining will work only if labor and management want it to work," says Eric Johnston, taking the thread of the argument.

"We, therefore, have to assume that both management and labor believe in the free enterprise system and that there is no intent to change this form of the American economy."

But then Mr. Johnston admits that, "In a free economy there can be no guarantee that there will be no strike." He can suggest nothing that could not be circumvented by anyone so inclined.

Instead of stopping there and giving the wide open end as hopeless, the CED group went on to outline a few first steps by which the dangers of strikes could be minimized.

Three Changes To Make
Principal bases for the suggested changes are three.

First, take the government out of the collective bargaining process except for compulsory mediation through a neutral, decentralized U. S. conciliation board.

Second, adaptation of a Swedish labor negotiation law which has been found to work, as under the Swedish custom strikes and lockouts would be barred until 10 days after the mediation is called in.

Third step would be recognition that labor contracts are instruments of force and should therefore be made enforceable by compulsory arbitration or in the courts by injunction if necessary. All disputes arising under a contract would thus be made binding on both parties.

Changing labor negotiations in the United States to conform to this Swedish pattern would require amendment of both the Wagner and Norris-LaGuardia acts, but in much less drastic manner than has been generally proposed.

The CED suggestions omit entirely any consideration of industry-wide bargaining, the closed shop, and labor monopolies which are being studied separately and will be reported on later.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Sunday School Lesson For March 9
Scripture: John's Gospel, Chapter 13
By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

The 12 men whom Jesus gathered around Him, as His first disciples, had come from fishing, tax-gathering, and other humble occupations, were no ordinary men. They were capable of adventure, and they were fired with great ambition. They counted themselves able for anything as long as their ambitions could be attained.

One sees this in various glimpses of the New Testament record—the request of "the mother of Zebedee's children" that her sons, James and John, should occupy the highest places in the earthly kingdom that she assumed Jesus was going to set up, the intense indignation of the other disciples when they heard her request, and the discussions that Jesus overheard which of them should be the greatest.

Again and again Jesus rebuked them, setting a little child in the midst to enforce His teaching that they would enter the kingdom of heaven as little children if they would.

But despite the Master's teaching and example, it seemed that the disciples would not learn, and now, in the closing days of His ministry, He determined to give them one, perhaps somebody forget to include a story. . . . BEST PERFORMANCE: Loretta Young in "The Farmer's Daughter."

MGM has announced that Lana Turner's next picture will be a remake of "Coquette," in which Mary Pickford starred a decade ago. Well, Lana's many headlined romances certainly qualify her for the title role. What a sensational triumph in showmanship it would be if the studio could only arrange to use ALL of Miss Turner's boyfriends in the picture. "Coquette" would boast the biggest male cast ever assembled.

A columnist reported the other day that quite a few actors are disgruntled over the nomination of Harold Russell, the amputee war hero, for an Academy Award for his performance in "The Best Years of Our Lives." I, myself, have heard a few protests voiced by actors who charge that Russell is not a member of the profession, that he's merely a "one-picture" amateur who should be barred from competition. What difference should that make? The Award is given, as I understand it, not for a consistently brilliant career, but for the best individual performance of the year. If Academy members decide that Russell's acting was better than that of any other supporting actor during 1946, then he deserves the Award. The kickers should be ashamed of their poor sportsmanship.

The King Brothers, who abandoned the slot machine business to become movie producers, now say that they're going to bring the immortal fairy tale, "Cinderella," to the screen, and add that Director Leo McCarey has supplied them with a version of the classic which he considers "particularly suitable for them." Well, remembering "Dillinger" and one or two other almost as objectionable pictures made by the Kings, I certainly want to see the production of "Cinderella." I want to find out whether McCarey has become a practical joker—or whether the age-old fairy story contains implications that escaped my childish eyes.

I see that some Chicago columnist has enlisted in the army of writers who pick "best-dressed" people, and named Billy House as "the best-dressed fat actor of 1946." I can't resist joining up, too. I want to name Stirling Sillars, who has been dressed as a foot-four-inch ex-Marine Corps officer under 40 with a master mariner's license now acting in Hollywood. ## Our Children

JOHN'S PRAYER

Now and again, never too often, I get a letter from one of the graduates of our school in the city. They tell me what they are doing, how things are with them, and what they hope for days to come. They always have some sort of message for me that makes the day brighter, my memory of them sweeter.

Today the mail brought me a letter from John. He tells me that he is working as a riveter and getting good pay, that he has a lovely little son who, he hopes, will go to a good school and get as good start as his father did.

He tells me, too, that he followed my advice and found a hobby for himself which makes his leisure time precious and a source of joy. He tries to write songs. He wrote a good many only to have them rejected, but he kept at it and now one is to be published. He believes that his courage to keep writing, his success in the end, came by answer to a prayer that was born in his thought one day. I am going to set it down here for boys and girls, for grownup folk too, if they feel it is for them.

A MAJ'S PRAYER

Dear God,
The plans I tried to carry through have failed.
I will not sorrow.
I'll pause a little while,
Dear God,
And try again, to-morrow.

John Fico.

BIBLE THOUGHTS

Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.—Matthew 18:3.

They are idols of hearts and of households;

They are angels of God in disguise; His sunlight still sleeps in their eyes.

His glory still gleams in their eyes; Those truntings from home and from Heaven

They have made me more manly and mild; And I know now how Jesus could liken

The kingdom of God to a child.

—Charles M. Dickinson.

in a new vision and experience. "We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren." Souls, as well as feet, were washed in that upper room.

Pitching Horseshoes

By Billy Rose

See's Knees," said Major Timothy Morgan. "Why Bee's Knees?" I asked.

"As happy in the mud as a water buffalo," boomed the Major. "Five o'clock is like five-five in the 'is.' We were in the clubhouse at Tral Park race track in Miami. I humped into the Major when they chased me after a horse race."

As Billy Rose ails, Timothy Morgan was exuding, larceny and bourbon. We maud our usual deal—I put up the mo', he put up the information.

Horses he touted in the third ancouth races weren't very good. Flashed-box special of the fifth did a le better. It finished next to last.

"The track could sure use Mr. Stu today," mused the Major. "What?" I asked.

"Shut the Rain Maker," said the old. "Didn't I ever tell you about him?"

"I were edging the horses into the tes now. The Major snaked my bincars out of the case. 'Look at Bee's knees,' he purred. 'Pretty as a horse's a merry round.'"

"It about Stubbs?" I probed. "As a few years back," the Major an. "Joe Widener, the Philadel millionnaire, was bossman at Belit Park. For three years hand runn, it rained at home every day of racing season. Horse players were laying home by the millions. At a of the betting windows, a cash was raising a potted geranium on tall. Joe and the Board of Directors were going nuts."

"One day a wispy little geezer walk up to Widener. 'My name is Stubbs,' he said. 'I guarantee the Rain Maker can make it rain or turn it off I a shower bath. I guarantee resully price is a thousand dollars for every clear day. Can you use me?'"

"Wner was nobody's fool, but afteree seasons of cloudbursts and thunders, he was willing to try, anyt. 'You got a deal,' he said."

"A days before Belmont opened that mer, Stubbs rigged up a tarpapanty in a far corner of the park; was full of wheels, coils and dobs. He lugged them in at night and a padlock as big as home plate the door to keep it all secret."

"It's a bit cloudy the morning of opng day, but when the bugle blew the first race, the sun broke out I the smile on the face of a daily able winner. At the end of the th race, Widener handed Stubbs bill with the three zeros on it."

"Are'll be figgered," continued the bar, "if the sun didn't keep shinin' the next fifteen days! Substituted around in his little shack, the only moisture that fell on Bent Park was the tears of the horse-ys."

Mor's voice broke off. At the startime they were having trouble with a lot of horses. The Major brought glasses into sharper focus. His nemucles were getting a little bunchut he went on talking, nice and ei engine room of the Diesel-powered vessel. Vassalli, heavily-bandaged at the hospital, described the explosion as "a terrific flash and blast." "It was on watch," he said. "The explosion knocked me from off the engine through the escape hatch. My hair was burning and so were my clothes. I managed to get out of the escape hatch and summon help. "I heard some men scream in pain, but I was so shocked I don't know whether I screamed or not." Leavitt, who was in his stateroom at the time of the explosion, said that when he went down to the engine room "the first thing I saw was a man coming up the ladder with his hair burned and his skin coming off."

"The engine room was filled with smoke," he said. "There were small fires from oil alongside the engine where the explosion happened. "We got fire extinguishers and put out the fires and saw to it that the badly injured were taken out as fast as we could do the job." Lieut. Francisco Garcia, who took command of the Colombian group, added: "Everyone acted wonderfully well." W. R. Guest, Ingalls vice-president who came here with Monro B. Lanier, company president, said it will require a thorough examination before technicians can determine the exact cause of the explosion.

professed themselves confident of ultimate victory.

One Communist official in Nanking told this correspondent: "We will return within a year. If you wish, let's make a date to have dinner here next March 1."

He spoke as he was packing to leave for the Communist capital, Yenan, Tuesday by U. S. army plane. Already challenging the Generalissimo's power, Communist armies are hacking away at the outer defenses of two widely separated but important government strongholds: Changchun, capital of Manchuria, and Tsinan, capital of Shantung province.

In Washington, the War department announced that Communists had captured Maj. Robert B. Riggs and Capt. John W. Collins, assistant military attaches with offices in Manchuria, at Chilunchen, a village northeast of Changchun.

The Communist radio at Yenan, continuing to claim great victories in Shantung, charged that government troops were moving into position for an attack on Yenan, a long-predicted development which never has materialized.

in other communities, as the first implementation of martial law. "A public information officer said an 'important communiqué,' generally believed to be imposition of martial law, would be released simultaneously here and in London at 8 a. m. (1 a. m. Eastern Standard Time).

Sixteen persons were killed and at least 14 wounded yesterday afternoon as the terrorists opened Palestine's bloodiest series of attacks since last July by bombing a British officers' club in Jerusalem. Throughout the rest of the day and night other attacks followed in rapid succession along the north Palestine coast.

Irgun Zvai Leumi, the underground Jewish resistance organization, broadcast a statement that it was responsible for all the attacks and declared the Irgun would "welcome the war which is bound to come before we can gain our freedom."

Much of the British military activity—the soldiers themselves saying they already were on "martial law footing"—was cloaked in darkness as the terrorists cut a trunk power line at Kfar Sirk last night, throwing all the coastal area north of Tel Aviv into blackness.

The attackers mined a jeep on the camel road near Haifa, killing two persons and injuring two; staged an artillery and machine gun raid on an army camp at Beit Lid, near Natchanya, killing a British corporal and wounding two other soldiers, and wounded a soldier in a truck mining near Tulkarn, 20 miles east of Natchanya.

Four other persons were wounded when trucks struck mines at undisclosed places. An army camp at Kfar Iona, near Natchanya, was attacked, but casualties were not reported; several vehicles were wrecked in the bombing of a naval parking lot near the Haifa water-front; a mortar shell exploded at Hadera, on the coast between Haifa and Natchanya, and a water pumping station at Ras Et Ein was put "under fire."

The issuing of the martial law decree was generally expected throughout the country following an emergency conference last night between Gen. G. H. A. Macmillan, British army commander in Palestine, and Sir Alna Cunningham, the high commissioner, in Jerusalem.

The curfew on residents in Jewish areas instructed them to remain in their homes from 7 p. m. "until further notice."

Irgun Zvai Leumi, the Jewish underground group, in a radio broadcast tonight assumed responsibility for the Jerusalem blast. The attackers crashed through a barrier in a truck laden with explosives and tossed bombs into the club building, in the heart of modern Jerusalem.

Irgun said the bombing was in retaliation for British attacks "on our brothers yesterday at Haifa in which some of our people were killed" and also to prove to British forces that they "cannot escape our soldiers in their fight for freedom no matter what elaborate precautions they take."

British sailors earlier this week in retaliation for a Jewish refugee ship which ran aground near Haifa. The would-be immigrants were removed to British deportation ships, but there were no reports of casualties to the immigrants.

Today, during the bloody violence, 15 vehicles were destroyed by an explosion and fire in a British naval car parked immediately back of the port area in Haifa.

The British information office first announced that four explosions had rocked the oil dock area, but later withdrew the announcement saying it was based on an erroneous police report.

Six armed men overpowered guards in the naval car park and set off the blasts under the machines, destroying them, the British said.

Previously an army official had said the British Seamen's Institute at Haifa was the site of one of the explosions. Private informants said fires set by the Haifa blasts could be seen from Mount Carmel.

later reported finding a second tally sheet in another envelope which revised his vote to 77. The missing 38 votes dramatically pushed Talmadge into the lead over James V. Carmichael with 669 and D. Talmadge Bowers, a Republican, who had 637. Had he placed third, the legislature would have had to choose between Carmichael and Bowers.

The Journal published photographs of the consolidated returns, and also the local tally sheet from the Helena district of Telfair county which credited Eugene Talmadge, the Democratic nominee, with 55 votes and Herman Talmadge with 48. Additionally, the Journal reproduced the list of voters casting ballots in the Helena district, supposedly in the order in which the ballots were cast. It noted that the last 34 voters were alphabetical, starting with "A" and running through "K."

purchased "a few dozen automatic pistols" in Dallas and had them shipped to Gulfport, "for protection of the men on the job."

Eatherly said he piloted a B-29 which accompanied the one that dropped the atomic bomb on Hiroshima.

Rappleyea was counsel for John Thomas Scopes in the famous "Evolution trial" at Dayton, Tenn., more than a score of years ago. In recent years he has been connected with the enterprises of A. J. Higgins, New Orleans industrialist and builder of wartime landing craft.

During the war Rappleyea was in charge of plant protection at Higgins Industries.

Farrell said St. Philip had been employed as a guard captain at a Higgins plant, and identified the machine guns in the arms cache as some previously used for protection at the plant.

Farrell declared most of the arms had been found in a house leased by Marsalis at Gulfport, and some were found in the Railway express office there, addressed to one of the five men, but undelivered.

He said the tip on the presence of the arms had come from John Payne, Chief of Gulfport police. He added that the F. B. I. also had worked on the case in Gulfport.

Mashburn said Marsalis formerly lived at Centerville, Miss., and was stationed at the Baton Rouge army base during the war.

FIVE U. S. AGENCIES INVESTIGATING CASE
NEW ORLEANS, March 1.—(AP)—Five federal government agencies tonight were investigating the case of five men arrested here and at Gulfport, Miss., in connection with a store of arms officers said were destined for shipment to South America, F. C. Farrell, district supervisor of the alcohol tax unit of the treasury department, revealed tonight.

He said: The Federal Bureau of Investigation is working on the case because it involves possible violation of the neutrality act.

The state department is checking on angles involving the licensing of a ship under foreign registry.

The customs department is interested in the export control phases of the case.

The coast guard is looking into the case to see if it involves possession of contraband articles.

And the alcohol tax unit of the treasury department is involved by the fact the charges are based on allegations of possession of automatic weapons not registered with the A. T. U.

The homes, which represent the first effort of a veterans' organization in Louisiana to provide houses at low cost for purchase by veterans, will sell for approximately $6,100. Disabled veterans will have first preference as purchasers.

The homes were designed to keep maintenance cost at a minimum. They have copper piping, copper screens, white asbestos siding, composition roofs and sheetrock walls and ceiling throughout. The floors are of hardwood, the exterior walls are storm-sheathed and all walls are diagonally braced and horizontally braced with three fire stops. Each is equipped with an automatic hot water tank and with highest grade plumbing fixtures.

The houses feature built-in wall heaters in the bathrooms and plenty of closet space. Exterior porches and steps are of concrete as well as the foundations. Exposed water pipes are insulated against freezing.

Each home has two bedrooms, a combination living and dining room, a kitchen and a bathroom. But all are of different exterior design.

In order that veterans might see how the homes will look furnished, Delta Furniture company has completely outfitted one of the houses.

U. S. AGREES

is scheduled to deliver an address at Waco, Tex., en route home from Mexico. Officials have described it as a "major speech" on both domestic and foreign affairs. It already has been drafted.

For the United States to step directly into the internal affairs of Greece would constitute a departure from long-standing American policy, and apparently would be designed to bulwark Britain in a stand against the spread of Russian influence throughout southern Europe.

The United States has interested itself in the past in the affairs of European countries, but this has been confined largely to relief and to insistence that some liberated and enemy countries hold free elections.

With the aid in Greece, the congressional leaders were told at the White House on Thursday, the United States also may have "to support Turkey to some extent with loans and surplus arms lest the democratic frontier from Europe to India collapse under Soviet pressure. At the time of the conference with the congressional leaders, the American decision had not been taken.

The proposal brought outcries today from Senator Edwin C. Johnson, Democrat, Colorado, and Rep. Engel, Republican, Michigan, chairman of the appropriations subcommittee which handles military expenditures. Chairman Taber, Republican, New York, of the full appropriations committee, one of those consulted directly by the president, has declined any comment.

"Evidently Great Britain is attempting to delegate to the United States the job of keeping Russia out of the Mediterranean," Johnson said. "I do not see any good reason for our undertaking this enterprise."

Johnson told a reporter he believes the diplomatic situation has been brought to a head at this time in an effort to force Congress to refrain from cutting military and foreign relief appropriations.

"I think one of the major objectives of this whole move undoubtedly is to hijack more money out of Congress for war expenditures," he declared.

The support that England has been giving to Greece and the support she intended to give, all comes out of our federal treasury, so there is nothing new in the situation."

He cited the $40,000,000 loan to Greece last year by Britain and the cancellation of a $185,000,000 debt the Greeks owed the British while the United States was granting England a huge loan.

Engel told a reporter he is "tired of pulling their fat out of the fire," referring to the British.

"I simply say that Great Britain must meet her obligations or we'll step out," he said. "I refuse to support any program unless I know what is going to become of the tax dollars."

Senator Saltonstall, Republican, Massachusetts, said in a statement that Congress ought not to be asked to "sign any blank checks."

"If the president sends a recommendation to Congress for action on aid to any foreign countries," he said, "we certainly should consider it promptly and most carefully. To act on these questions of aid to other countries, we must know the details of how it is proposed to spend the money and who will administer it."

While the amount regarded as necessary to pick up Britain's commitments in Greece would be about $250,000,000 this year, some legislators fear this might be only the beginning of an assumption of widespread Britain responsibilities.

Because of this and other uncertainties, Senator O'Mahoney, Democrat, Wyoming, told a newsman he thinks Congress ought to put off final action on a pending resolution to pledge at least a $450,000,000 cut in President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget for the government year beginning next July 1.

cution was fomented and started by a Negro uplift society up north, aided and abetted by the F. B. I."

"There will never be a co-mingling of white and blacks in the South," Drew asserted. "There is no force on earth which can bring that about."

U. S. District Attorney Malcolm LaFargue reported that "free government was of no avail in Webster Parish. The Webster Parish grand jury considered this case and didn't do a cockeyed thing. It was a whitewash."

He asserted that the F. B. I. began its investigation a week after the Negro's death became known "and long before we heard about the N. A. A. C. P. (National Association for the Advancement of Colored People) or anything else."

"This is not a question of social rights or economic rights," LaFargue said. "It is a question of God-given rights."

SAYS ASSEMBLY CHANGED STAND

U.N. Council President Raps Admission Of I. C. Of C.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 1.—(P)—Sir Ramaswami Mudaliar, president of the United Nations economic and social council, declared today the general assembly had ignored its own stand against Franco Spain by voting to give the International Chamber of Commerce a voice in U. N. affairs.

The Franco issue was raised by J. Papanek, representative of Czechoslovakia, during debate on an assembly resolution directing that four non-governmental organizations be permitted to submit items for the council's agenda.

These organizations were the World Federation of Trade Unions, the American Federation of Labor, the International Cooperative Alliance and the International Chamber of Commerce. The assembly had included the latter in the list despite charges that Franco Spain was a member of the I. C. of C. Papanek did not mention the I. C. of C. specifically. He merely called attention to the assembly's resolution barring U. N. dealings with any organization in which Spain held membership, and asked how this ruling would affect the council's relationship with the four organizations in question.

Sir Ramaswami declared that the assembly evidently had made an exception in the case of the I. C. of C., since it knew when it acted "whether any of these non-governmental organizations had Spanish membership or not."

"When the same body passes two resolutions," he said, "it must be taken for granted that whatever inconsistency was known to the general assembly and was ignored by the general assembly."

"We must take it that the general assembly passed these resolutions with its eyes and ears quite open."

The council finally decided that all four organizations would be permitted to offer items for the agenda after more than three hours of debate in which Russia and the western powers clashed over whether these questions would be screened before acceptance by the council.

Soviet Delegate Alexander P. Molotov contended that they should be placed on the provisional agenda automatically, but British Delegate Hector McNeill and U. S. Delegate Leroy Stinehour, backed by New Zealand and Canada, wanted the proposed items screened by a steering committee.

Molotov also expressed regret that the general assembly had refused to give the W. F. T. U. permission to have a greater voice in the council's affairs and reserved the right to bring up later Russia's original proposal, which would permit the labor organization to take part in council discussions.

The council voted, over Russian objection, to set up an 11-nation committee to draft new rules laying down procedure for handling the items proposed by the non-governmental organizations and to decide whether the proposals should be referred to the committee which items would be accepted.

Sir Ramaswami announced that the delegates would begin debate Monday on their No. 1 problem, the question of creating a permanent economic commission to help relieve the war-damaged countries of Europe.

RED CROSS BREAKFAST HOSTS

hospitals to receive a concrete answer, the speaker asserted.

Assistance which the organization renders during disaster was recently illustrated near home. Jefferson referred to the tragedy resulting from the hotel fire in Atlanta, Ga. Twelve victims of the catastrophe, who live in or near the city, are being cared for by the American Red Cross. Some of these were so badly injured that they will require new occupations, Jefferson explained. The Red Cross provides training for such cases. In this area of the United States Red Cross workers are busy with cases resulting from fires, tornadoes and other disasters.

Democratic principles for which the organization stands have taken on international significance. Putting democracy into effect was graphically illustrated, the speaker asserted, in the distribution of clothing to war victims of foreign lands. There it was a question of deciding which persons needed garments worst.

During the last war about 13,000,000 pints of blood were made available by the Red Cross. Today blood may be obtained without cost to those who are unable to pay for it.

Jefferson stressed the fact that the Red Cross offers not only assistance to those in distress but it also provides opportunity for men throughout different nations to share in what all are thinking. Genuine peace is based on understanding of common problems of these peoples, Jefferson said. The Red Cross has become a powerful factor in the effort to make this ideal become a reality.

Snelling spoke of the Ouachita Chapter's budget as a public affair. Answering the question regarding the good which National Red Cross has assistance in disaster, he said that in the past 20 years he said that the national organization has spent $168,710 in direct disaster relief in Ouachita parish. During this period the parish has paid $129,026 to the national Red Cross. "As of today you are almost $40,000 ahead of the game," he explained. "Any attempt to measure the return on your gift for public good is a fairly narrow approach to the problem at best."

He announced that headquarters during the present fund campaign will be in the United Gas Corporation office on Jackson street.

SOUTHEASTERN IS GIVEN MEMBERSHIP

HAMMOND, La., March 1.—(P)—Southeastern Louisiana College has been elected to membership in the American Association of Teachers Colleges, it was reported today by Dr. Gladney J. Tinsley, president of the Hammond institution.

Dr. Tinsley said that Southeastern received membership in the association, for teachers colleges in the United States, at a Saturday morning session of the national convention now meeting in Atlantic City, N. J.

Only two other Louisiana institutions, Southwestern Louisiana Institute and Northwestern State College, are members of this college accrediting agency.

THE NATION TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

(Editor's note: This is the sixth of 12 stories explaining who has to do what about his income tax returns.)

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(P)—You'll save money by being careful about your exemptions in filing your 1946 income tax return.

You get a $500 exemption—which means $500 knocked off your total income before the tax is applied—tor:

1. Yourself (always).

2. Your wife—if she had no income of her own or is filing a joint return with you.

3. Each dependent.

When a husband and wife file separate returns, he claims his own $500 exemption for himself. She claims her $500 for herself.

When a wife files a return and her husband has no income, she claims his $500 exemption in addition to her own. (What the wives of enlisted men can do is explained in a later story on servicemen and veterans.)

You can claim as a dependent any close relative—no matter how young or old—who received more than half his support from you in 1946 and had less than $500 income of his own.

A dependent—even though he earned money, if it was less than $500—doesn't have to file a return. And you don't have to report his income even if he turned it over to you.

You can't claim as a dependent anyone who had $500 or more income, even though he received more than half his support from you.

(Anyone with $500 or more income must file his own return and take his own $500 exemption for himself).

These people can be claimed as dependents:

Your child or grandchildren; a stepchild but not his children; a legally adopted child; a brother, sister, step-brother, step-sister, your parents, grandparents, or other ancestors; your step-father, step-mother; aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews; all related by blood; and your in-laws; father-mother-in-law; brother-in-law; daughter-in-law.

You can claim as a dependent for the whole year a child born to you as late as Dec. 31, 1946.

You can claim as a dependent for the whole year a dependent who died anytime in 1946, even as early as Jan. 1, 1946.

When you use the 1040 long form—which means working out your own tax—you must do a little arithmetic with each $500 exemption.

(All you do is subtract your total exemptions from your income before applying the tax to what's left of the income.)

(How well you do it will be explained in detail in a later story on filling out the 1040 long form.)

But when you use form W-2, the withholding statement, or the 1040 short form you just list your exemptions without arithmetic.

With both these forms your tax is found in a tax table. The table makes allowance for each exemption of a person filing a return.

So, when you just look at the table for the tax according to your 1946 income and the number of your exemptions.

Here's an example of exemptions: You, married, have two children. It cost you $1,200 each in 1946 to send those children through school.

They both worked after school. One earned $499, the other $500. Both turned their money over to you, to help pay their way.

You can't claim as an exemption the one who made $500, even though it cost you more than twice that much to send him through school.

He must file his own return—since

INCOME TAX ABCs for 1947

BY MARCH 15—

A. RETURN ON 1946 income must be filed.

B. TAX OWED on Form 1040 must be paid.

C. PERSONS in Armed Forces who are overseas may postpone filing their returns until 5 1/2 months after they return to this country but not beyond 3 1/2 months after the war is officially ended.

he had $500 income—and claim his own $500 exemption for himself.

But you can claim a $500 exemption for the child who made $499, because it was under $500. Neither you nor he has to report the income.

So you claim a $500 exemption for him, $500 for your wife, since she had no income, and $500 for yourself.

Last year taxpayers had to think, in making out their returns, of separate exemptions for the normal tax and the surtax.

There's been a change. This year, in figuring the tax on income, the normal tax and the surtax have been combined.

So now you think only of one $500 exemption: Whether you can claim it and deduct it from your income before the income is taxed with the combined tax.

That's why, to make it easy for you, no distinction was made in the story between normal and surtax exemptions.

(Monday: Watch your deductions.)

LOUISIANA YOUTH GETS LONG TERM

WAUSAU, Wis., March 1.—(P)—A 20-year-old ex-sailor who told Circuit Judge Gerald Boileau he held up the Edgar State Bank "for the excitement," was sentenced today to 15 to 20 years in the Wisconsin state reformatory when he pleaded guilty to a charge of armed robbery.

The defendant, Felix Dugas of Napoleonville, La., said he didn't rob the bank for the money, that his parents were able to provide him with funds, but that he was looking for a thrill. The state charged he obtained between $3,000 and $4,000 in the holdup. Dugas served three years in the navy during the war, all except six months overseas. He had no previous criminal record. Judge Boileau read into the record a statement that he would have considered placing Dugas on probation but that there was no such provision in the law.

Mark Jorgensen, 20, of Austin, Minn., and his 19-year-old wife, Avis, who also are charged with armed robbery in connection with the holdup, are awaiting preliminary hearing after having pleaded innocent. It is alleged they waited in an automobile while Dugas robbed the bank.

ARANHA TO HEAD SECURITY COUNCIL

Life-Long Friend Of United States Takes Over Chairmanship

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 1.—(P)—Dr. Oswaldo Aranha, a successful Brazilian Revolutionist and a life-long friend of the United States, became chairman of the United Nations security council today.

Dr. Aranha, 53, took with him to one of the hottest spots in the United Nations the firm and avowed belief that the nations of the world could learn a thing or two about living together from the example of the Pan-American union.

In a speech at a luncheon given after his appointment to the council, Aranha said the framers of the world organization "have a great deal to learn from the experience of America," where, he said, the conceptions and practices of the Pan-American union, "as association of free peoples," have abolished the need for "coercion."

The tall, gray-haired diplomat will be chairman until April 1, when China takes over under the council's monthly rotation system. Shortly after that, Aranha is expected to leave the council and return to Brazil to look after his extensive business and political interests.

Aranha has calmed down considerably from those stirring days of 1930 when he was one of the prime movers of the revolution which put Getulio Vargas in the presidency. He served as minister of justice and interior, minister of finance, Brazilian ambassador to the United States, and Brazil's foreign minister until he broke with Vargas and resigned in 1944.

He and Vargas parted paths because Aranha thought Vargas wanted to remain president too long. He still is a strong political opponent of his old friend of revolutionary days.

Aranha was born in Alegre, state of Rio Grande do Sul. He was a precocious student and began a law course at the University of Rio de Janeiro at the age of 18, much ahead of the usual age of Brazilian university students.

He studied also in the school of social subjects in Paris.

He has a fine command of five languages, speaking his native Portuguese, Spanish, English, French and Italian.

Aranha jumped into politics at an early age and held various state offices until he and Vargas unleashed the revolution of 1930. He was given his first cabinet post in 1931. In 1934 he was majority leader of the constituent assembly and played a prominent role in drafting the constitution in that year.

Aranha was sent to Washington as ambassador in 1934 and spent the next four years strengthening relations between his country and the United States. He admired the New Deal and never tired of telling Brazil about its teachings and advantages.

In 1938 he was made minister of foreign affairs and held that post in the turbulent days before the war and in the years after Brazil actually went to war against Germany and Italy.

Aranha was in the United States in January when Dr. Pedro Leao Veloso, Brazilian delegate on the security council, died and President Eurico Gaspar Dutra named Aranha to succeed him until after that nation's turn at the council presidency.

His family consists of his wife and two daughters, now with him in the United States, and two sons, both of whom remained in Brazil. One daughter, Mrs. Sergio Correa Da Costa, makes her home in Washington, where her husband is secretary to Ambassador Carlos Muzio, Brazil's representative to the Pan-American union.

BOY FLEES NUDE TO ESCAPE SPANKING

PHILADELPHIA, March 1.—(P)—Seven-year-old William Preno, Jr., was found huddled naked on a neighbor's porch today after spending the night in sub-freezing weather rather than be spanked by his parents for playing hookey from school.

Police and other searchers discovered the boy huddled in a laundry bag with porch furniture cushions piled on top to keep him warm.

His parents said they learned at supertime last night that William had failed to attend his first grade classes at a suburban Germantown Parochial school.

The elder Preno related that his wife, Marie, 25, said the boy would have to be spanked.

"With that," Preno added, "the little fellow bolted out of the door. My wife ran after him but he got away."

The couple's three other children—Marjorie, six; Gloria, two; and Carol, six months—were cared for by neighbors while the parents joined the all-night search.

MISS FLOURNOY'S RITES SET SUNDAY

The funeral of Miss Jordana Harris Flournoy, 86, member of a prominent Ouachita parish family who died Saturday at her home, 107 Hilton street, will be held Sunday. The body will lie in state at the First Presbyterian church from 2 p. m. to 3 p. m., when the funeral will be conducted by Rev. Ernest Duncan Holloway, pastor. Interment in the old city cemetery will be directed by Mulhearn Funeral Home.

Pallbearers will be: Sydney Stroud, Dr. D. M. Moore, C. K. Crandall, George Weeks, Jr., Robert Hanna, Jr., George Snellings, Jr., and Dan A. Breard.

Born at old Trenton, now West Monroe, Miss Flournoy was a daughter of the late Algeon Flournoy, Trenton merchant, and Mrs. Louisa Flournoy. She lived all her life here and was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Lucien N. Larche, Monroe; and several nieces and nephews, including Fred Millsaps, Eugene J. Flournoy, Mrs. Louisa F. Unglesby, and Lucien Flournoy, Shreveport; Mrs. Carrie C. Larche, Alexandria; Mrs. Albert Sanders, Helena, Ark.; Mrs. Eloise Langford and Tom Larche, Jackson, Miss.; and James Larche and Sarah Larche, New Orleans.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, March 1.—(P)—The stock market today began the new month with an exceptionally lamb-like demeanor and most leaders were inclined to drift slightly lower.

Dealings from the start were among the slowest of the past year. The ticker tape frequently halted for a minute or so at a time. While assorted favorites managed to show modest improvement, a point was widely distributed near the close. Transfers for the two hours dwindled to about 300,000 shares.

The big bulge in grain futures encountered opposition. Cotton exhibited advancing tendencies. Bonds were narrow.

TODD LAUNCHES
LEGION'S JUNIOR
BASEBALL PLAN

District Chairman Urges All
Clubs Of This Area To Begin Organization

The American Legion Junior baseball program for 1947 is off to a flying start in the Fifth District of Louisiana this season as District Chairman E. B. Todd, Monroe, last night sent out requests to all legion posts of his district to notify him as soon as possible of their intentions to sponsor teams in this year's competition.

Todd, who wants communications regarding legion baseball in the district addressed to him at 700 Rochelle avenue, Monroe, said a meeting of district team managers and sponsors would be called within a few weeks to map a schedule and playoff procedure to determine the district champion.

"We expect this to be a banner year in American Legion baseball, especially for our own district," Todd declared. "This can be accomplished only with the assistance of every legion post planning to support teams."

The American Legion Junior baseball competition will be open to all boys who are amateurs and who have not attained their seventeenth birthday before January 1, 1947. Any boy born prior to January 1, 1930, is not eligible.

The legion is very strict on the rule which requires all boys to furnish birth certificates from some bureau of vital statistics of city or state. No baptism certificates are acceptable, and all births of the competing players must be registered before January 1, 1947.

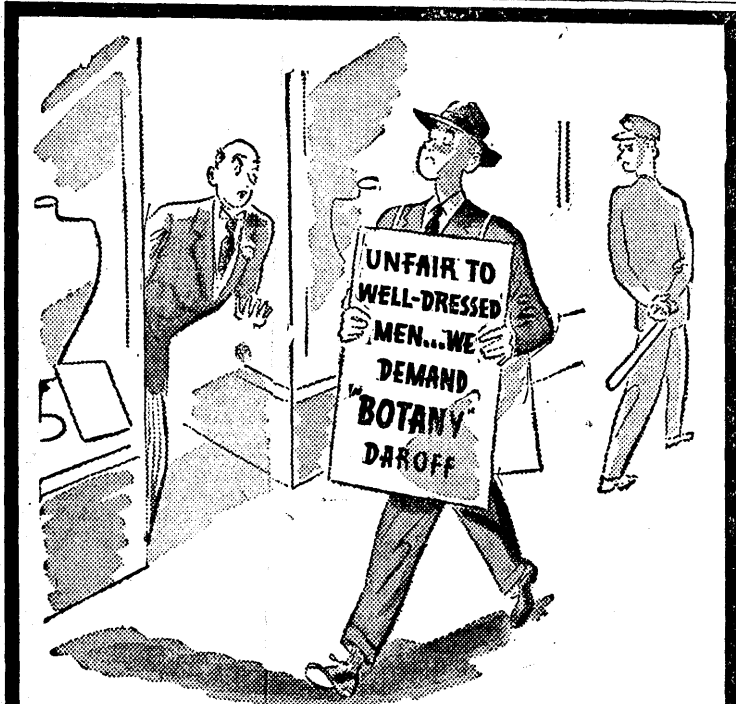

Delayed birth certificates, obtained for players after January 1 of this year, will not qualify a boy to compete in legion baseball, but if a boy has misplaced or lost his birth certificate he can go to his parish health department and get the necessary forms (which will help him fill them out) which he can mail to the bureau of vital statistics at New Orleans in order to get a new certificate.

The player limit for each club for this year has been raised to sixteen instead of the fifteen as prevailed last season.

Teams in this district competing last summer were Bastrop, Ruston, Farmville, Winnsboro, Columbia, and Monroe. Todd said last night that prospects looked good for the entry of other legion teams into the district program this year.

To make the financial burden lighter for legion teams, the Fort Motor Company will again assist any teams that want to take part, it has been announced. Noel Loftin, former Tulane football star, has been designated to contact the Ford dealers throughout Louisiana with regards to buying uniforms, equipment, and supplying whatever other financial support is necessary to help the teams in their various localities get started.

No scout for any professional baseball club will be permitted to coach or manage any legion junior team.

Kentucky Beats Tulane In Finals
For 4th S. E. C. Basketball Title

Upset-Minded Green Wave
Halted By Wildcats By
Score Of 55 To 38

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 1.—(AP)—Kentucky romped to its fourth straight Southeastern Conference basketball championship here tonight with a 55-38 victory over Tulane, but only after overcoming the stiffest kind of opposition from the upset-minded Green Wave.

Tulane, after riding into the title tilt on a ticket marked "upset" all the way, started out tonight in a strong bid to score its biggest surprise of all. But the Wildcats awoke in time to prevent such a catastrophe.

The Greens scored first and set the early pace, surrendering and recapturing the lead four times, then the Kentuckians went out front at 18-17. After that, the Wildcats were never headed.

Tulane stayed close on Kentucky's heels until the half, trailing by only five points, 20-25, when the horn sounded the rest half.

Second-seeded Louisiana State became Kentucky's second successive upset victim in today's semi-finals as the Greens, led by two high-scoring artists, turned a closely contested duel into a 63-50 cakewalk.

Kentucky, in its third day of re-writing the tournament's record book, added an important new entry in their 75-53 semi-final slide past Georgia Tech. In three games they had scored 237 points, one point more than the record total compiled in four games by the 1946 Kentucky team. Each marker scored by the Wildcats in the title tilt added to the record.

Another record was reached through the 128-point total score of Kentucky and Tech, surpassing the 127 points scored in the Wildcats' 98-29 massacre of Vanderbilt Thursday night.

Warren Perkins and Alex Athas contributed 43 points to Tulane's cause against L. S. U. to become high scorers of the tournament. Perkins had 22 points and Athas had 21.

Tulane wasted little time in building up its working margin, going on top 18-8 halfway through the first period, but the Bayou Bengals found their basket eyes and closed steadily in to trail by only two points, 27-29, at intermission.

The Greens fell into a deadlocked score at the beginning of the second half, but they didn't give up their lead at any stage of a quick exchange of goals. They soon started pulling away again and had a 50-39 edge in the middle of the second half.

The five players usually identified as Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp's second team played most of the game against a scrappy Georgia Tech team, in the semi-finals, but the Wildcats kept pouring on the points.

A contest that took the form of a nip-and-tuck scrap suddenly turned the way of overpowering Kentucky after five minutes of play. The Engineers all almost hopelessly behind to trail at intermission, 15-38.

Although Georgia Tech enjoyed the distinction of outscoring the Wildcats in the second half, 38-37, Kentucky stayed comfortably out front all the way. The Georgians advanced within 18 points of Kentucky's lead midway through the second half, but Wildcat marksmen rebuilt their overwhelming barrier.

Scoring was well distributed down the Kentucky lineup, but Joe Holland and Cliff Barker came up with top honors with 14 points apiece. Wallace (Wah-Wah) Jones, going most of the way for ailing Alex Groza, had 12 points.

Northwestern Star Baskets
283 Points; Wildcat Ace
Is Runner-Up

PINEVILLE, La., March 1.—(Special)—Cage teams in the Louisiana Intercollegiate conference amassed 4,551 points during the second postwar season which ended officially on February 19, according to figures on record with the league statistician.

The season ended in a three-way tie, with Tech, S. L. I. and Northwestern sharing top honors. This marked the third consecutive conference season that Tech has at least had a share in the crown. The north Louisiana Bulldogs won exclusive possession of the title in the springs of 1942 and 1946. Between the two dates the conference was inactive, with most of the colleges playing only service fives.

Five teams, Tech, S. L. I., Northwestern, Louisiana College, and Southeastern, compiled the totals in 68 games. Centenary College, Shreveport, which was recently invited to rejoin the conference, has not participated in L. I. C. activities since the football season of 1941. The Gentlemen closed their last basketball season with a 400 record.

Leading scorer in all games was Ocie Richie, Northwestern ace center who returned from the 1942 squad, to lead the league with 283 points. Second high was Harvey Hendrick, Louisiana College forward, with 245 points.

Records of last year's play in the then newly reorganized conference are unavailable, but Joe Mallard, Louisiana College forward in 1942, scored up 341 points. Mallard made 285 the previous season.

Louisiana Tech led in team scoring with 1,006 points. Runner-up was Northwestern with 976. S. L. I., Louisiana College, and Southeastern followed in the order named.

Southeastern set the pace in fouls committed. The squad which won only one game inflicted 288 personal fouls on their opponents, to close their season 32 ahead of Tech.

Most games were played by Southeastern, who scheduled 19 games. Northwestern played only 15 in the regular season for the fewest. Other colleges have 18 games on their records.

In a game against Millsaps College of Jackson, Miss., Southeastern squared 23 personal fouls to set the season's record. Lowest number in a single game, 4, was inflicted by S. L. I. against Jack's All-Stars, an independent Lafayette squad.

Wayne Seal of Southeastern fouled out in five games, and led all men in the league with 54 for the season.

The conference's non-existent "tough luck" trophy went to Southeastern on two counts. The Lions won only one game, and that against an independent team, and suffered an irreparable loss when Pat Kenelly, all-L. I. C. footballer and first string center, graduated in January. The six-foot-five center scored 97 points and best him out, both by less than 10 points, but only in the eighteenth and nineteenth games of the season. Strangely, the Southeasterners, scored exactly 35 points in six of their games. In an effort to find the winning combination, the Lions carried a league-high total of 28 men on their roster. The conference low, 13, was listed by Louisiana College.

Three members of the S. L. I. team fouled out in the same game, the most on any squad in a similar period. Southeastern, the largest school in the conference, won a share of the title for the first time since 1941, when they tied with the Demons, who also captured a slice for the first time since then.

Most points in a single game were scored by Louisiana Tech, who tallied 43 field goals and 7 free throws for 93 points against Berkdale Field. Fewest points in a game were made by Louisiana College when they eked out 15 in a game against S. L. I. Worst beating taken by a member-team came when Northwestern State downed Southeastern 80-24, a 56 point margin.

Coaches in the season were Hal T. Weatherly, Louisiana College; H. Lee Prather, Northwestern State; J. C. "Dutch" Reinhardt, S. L. I.; Cecil Crowley, Tech; Clyde Funderburk, Southeastern.

Ninety-one men were used by league coaches, and 76 of these scored. L. I. C. teams averaged 49.5 points per game, 57.3 points per scorer, 1.24 points per minute, and 87.14 points per team. Medians for fouls were 240.6 per team, 13.65 per scorer, .34 per minute, and 13.65 per team.

On 29 occasions squadmen in the L. I. C. were ejected from games because of excessive personal fouls. The average per team for the season was 5.8 men.

LESNEVICH PROVES
PUNCH NOT FADING

NEW YORK, March 1.—(P)—Gus Lesnevich, who has always been just a "good" fighter to the fans but never one to raise their blood pressure, woke up today to discover he not only still has his light-heavyweight championship, but is the hottest thing around these parts since the invention of steam heat.

It wasn't only that old Gus tossed the betting odds and the ugly rumors of a title "deal" right out the window by stopping young Billy Fox with the big right hand in the tenth round of their title bout before an "SRO" turnout of 18,318 customers in Madison Square Garden last night, although his closest friends didn't think he could do it.

It was how he did it—fighting a smart, heady fight, and weathering a storm that had him hearing the birdsies at one point. And finally, taking on a strong free-wheeling Philadelphia youngster with the greatest knockout record in history—43 straight and caving the roof in on him.

There was no doubt, when this one was over that Lesnevich—32 years old, veteran of a dozen years of the wallop wars, and just a good game guy up to now—really had the customers roaring for him as he's never had before.

Except for the third—when Billy set off his only explosion and all but flattened the champ—and the fourth, when Gus was still recovering from the fireworks, Fox didn't take a round. Lesnevich fought a fight from start to finish as though he'd written the book, moving to Billy's left out of reach of the right-hand artillery, digging both hands to the body, snapping the challenger's chin back with jabs and mixing him up with right-hand rockets.

From the sixth on Gus took charge. In the tenth, he put over a right hand that the folks ten rows back must have felt. Although Billy got up at "eight," he was helpless and Referee Johnny Byrne called it a night.

Some of the craters of the moon have been found to be 100 miles across.

Green Mill won two of three from Bubb's Tea Room and moved into a tie for second with Spatafora's Pharmacy when the Spats dropped three straight to Brice's Super Market.

In the Businessmen's League, Hunt and Whitaker boosted its lead another game over Bill Bennett's Service Station, beating Bennett's two out of three and taking a three-game lead in the league race. Russell's Dry Cleaners got two out of three games from F. Strauss and Son, and Railway Express also beat The Toggery, two out of three.

DICKINSON, WINTER IN NEW ORLEANS FINALS

NEW ORLEANS, March 1.—(P)—Dickinson, Louisiana State University's crack golfer from Macon, Ga., and Alpheus Winter, Bridgeport, Conn., advanced to the finals of the New Orleans Country Club's 10th annual invitation tournament today.

They won by identical scores of 2 and 1. Dickinson defeated Layton Fernandez of the St. John Club despite the latter's terrific comeback on the final five holes. Dickinson won over Dick Collard, Jr.

PARKER, MOBLEY
RENEW DISPUTE
OVER MAT TITLE

Light-Heavy Rivals Rematched
For Main Event Here
Thursday

The muddled affairs of the Louisiana state light heavyweight wrestling championship are set to be cleared up here Thursday night when Allen "Sailor" Parker, Nashville, Tenn., and Rex Mobley, Texas City, Tex., renew their feud in the main event at Gus Kallio's Arena, Promoter Kallio said last night.

Of course nothing is muddled to anyone as much as it is to Mobley who came here the champion last Thursday, defeated Parker in a title scramble, and then was rocked back on his heels as District Wrestling Commissioner Dave Silverstein handed the belt to Parker.

Silverstein, in awarding the belt to Parker, declared Mobley had failed to break clean and return to the center of the ring before grabbing Parker in a rolling leg split that won him the deciding fall, and the commissioner quoted the rule book to back up his decision.

"You may use any kind of tactics and get away with just about anything in other matches and other title scraps, but when you wrestle in Louisiana for the Louisiana belt you're going to wrestle clean and according to the rules," Silverstein said.

Silverstein's act definitely gave the belt to Parker so the Tennessee tussler is the defending champion this week and second holder of the belt.

But Kallio added to the muddle last night when he declared that "Parker won't be able to inscribe his name on the belt unless he beats Mobley next Thursday." That sounded like the belt was in a frozen state and Parker has

Tech Football Schedule
For 1947

RUSTON, La., March 1.—(Special)—The Louisiana Tech football schedule for 1947 will include Auburn, of the Southeastern Conference, and Centenary College, another Louisiana Intercollegiate Conference foe.

Auburn was missing from the Tech opposition last year because of conflicting dates in each team's schedule, and Centenary is just resuming football after a war-time layoff.

According to Head Coach Joe Aillet, the 1947 schedule is as follows: Sept. 27—Howard-Payne, at Ruston, Oct. 4—Auburn, at Auburn, Oct. 11—Miss. Southern, at Ruston, Oct. 18—La. College, at Pineville, Oct. 25—Northwestern State College, at Shreveport.

Nov. 1—Southwestern, at Ruston, Nov. 8—Southeastern, at Hammond, Nov. 15—Oklahoma City U., at Oklahoma City, Nov. 22—to be filled, Nov. 27—Centenary, at Ruston.

ARK-LA-TEX TOURNEY SET FOR MAY 9, 10, 11

SHREVEPORT, La., March 1.—(P)—The thirteenth annual Ark-La-Tex Amateur Golf Tournament will be staged at the Shreveport Country Club May 9, 10 and 11. It was announced today. Dates for the tournament were set at a meeting of the tournament committee held yesterday at the Country Club.

Wilford Wehrle of Louisville, Ky., who won the Ark-La-Tex title in 1946, is expected to defend his crown, and Earl Stewart, Jr., of Dallas, Texas, former National Intercollegiate champion and 1946 runner-up, is also expected to return to the tourney this year.

GROOM, ELEVEN HORSES PERISH IN TRACK BLAZE

20-Year-Old William Kovarik Burns With Racers At Oaklawn Park

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 1.—(AP)—A 20-year-old groom and eleven thoroughbreds died today in a fire at the Oaklawn race track which destroyed two stables and left horses roaming over a radius of several miles.

Two ponies also perished. The blaze, the cause of which had not been determined, also damaged two other barns.

Oaklawn, now in the midst of its annual 30-day racing season which opened Feb. 24, carried on its regular program today though owners and trainers still were attempting to sort out their horses and ascertain definitely their losses.

Scratches from today's races included some of the horses lost in the blaze, such as Esley and Kendell's Tex Star and G. M. McFarland's Sly Manner. J. V. Lunsford's Jacolite also was among the scratches, though that horse was saved while a stablemate, Incobitt, burned to death.

The fire apparently started in one end of the attached barns and spread quickly through the frame structures. The charred body of the groom, Glen Floyd Esley, 31, was found near where the fire was believed to have started.

William Kovarik, a groom, related he was awakened by the heat and found the stable a mass of flames. He had time only to grab a few clothes and escape. He said there were 12 men in the building, but all except Esley appeared to have gained safety.

Grooms and trainers raced among the stables, where some 700 race horses were quartered, leading some to safety, but more frequently simply opening doors and urging the horses to freedom. Horsemen and others spent hours rounding up the animals, found on country highways and in the Hot Springs business district.

Three companies of firemen fought the flames for two hours before bringing them under control. The fire broke out at 1 a. m., but the glare of the flames, visible for miles, drew a large crowd to the track.

SPRING TRAINING BEGINS AT N. J. C.

Malone Issues Call For Official Start Of Grid Work For Tomorrow

Spring football training for the Northeast Junior College of L. S. U. Indians officially opens here tomorrow, Coach James L. Malone announced last night.

In announcing the official start on his 14th spring football grind, Coach Malone said the training invitation as being extended to the entire male student body at N. J. C.

"We want any member of the student body who wants to play football to report for this training regardless of whether or not he has ever had any football experience," Malone declared. "The purpose of this training session is to develop the material we'll have to depend on next fall, and we are prepared to devote time in developing the talent of any likely looking prospect regardless of previous experience."

Although the "official" tag has been put on tomorrow's opening drills, several Indian grid candidates have already been working out daily for the past three weeks on the N. J. C. campus. The work beginning this week will last for a month or more, Malone said.

CENTRAL LOUISIANA RALLY ON APRIL 11-12

PINEVILLE, La., March 1.—(Special)—Entry blanks and rule books for the 20th annual Central Louisiana Rally at Louisiana College were mailed this week to principals of fifty high schools belonging to the high school athletic association and eligible for competition in the Central Louisiana Rally.

Friday and Saturday, April 11 and 12, have been set as dates for the meet which will include athletic and literary events. The basketball division of the rally was played at Louisiana College February 21-22 with the following winners: Bolton, High School of Alexandria, boys A; Jona High School, boys A; Dry Prong, boys B; Urania High School, boys C; Marksville, girls A; Baskin High School, girls B; Lafargue High School of Effie, girls C.

Entry blanks must be mailed to Henry E. Walden, rally secretary Louisiana College, by April 5. Pairings will be announced after the final registration day.

The following schools have been mailed entry blanks: Bolton of Alexandria; Bunkie, Dequincy, DeRidder, Jena, Marksville, Menard of Alexandria; Oakdale, Ville Platte, Winnfield, Baskin, Block of Jona; Boyce, Buckeye, Cheneyville, Colfax, Columbia, Cottonport, Dry Prong, Elizabeth, Evergreen, Fifth Ward of Marksville, Forest Hill, Georgetown, Hesser, Lafargue of Effie, Lecompte, Loreauville, Mansura, Moreauville, Oak Hill of Elmer, Olla-Standard, Pitkin, Plaquemine, Poland, Pollock, Providence of Alexandria, Rosepine, St. Francis Xavier of Alexandria, Sikes, Simpson, Toga, Trout-Goodpine, Urania, Verda, Vidalia, Bastie.

SPORTS ROUND UP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, March 1.—(AP)—

Reports from the Pennsylvania coal regions have it that Johnny Chucker, who captained the Penn State football team as a freshman in 1944, has changed his mind about returning to his old school and will enroll at San Francisco U. . . . Another good one among the half dozen Pennsylvania boys going west to play under Ed McKeever is Jim Vargin, a lineman, who just quit Tennessee. . . . Warren Wright's Calumet stable earned $116,000 in the first 32 days of the Hialeah race meeting, averaging $3,625 a day.

Oklahoma U. trackmen call their training track under the stadium "Pneumonia Downs" and point out that 15 of the 18 Big Six indoor meets have been won by schools with heated training quarters. They should come out east for the "Polar Bear" meet some time. . . . How come they haven't been mentioning Fordham in the basketball tourney talk?

Trautman Wasn't Bait
When George (Red) Trautman, now minor league baseball boss, was a freshman at Ohio State, he was given a job helping ground-keeper Tony Aquila paint benches at the stadium.

Tony left Red on his own and came back late in the afternoon. "How you coming along?" asked Tony. "Fine," replied Red, "we won the game 2-2." . . . It required considerable explaining before Aquila realized his assistant had put in the afternoon pitching a sandlot ball game.

Shorts And Shells
Although Alabama's basketball team has used the slow, deliberate "play for possession" game all season, it fell just two points short of the Southeastern Conference scoring record with 33 points this season. . . . Egypt will stage its first automobile race tomorrow over what is said to be the world's shortest road-racing course, a 1,500 meter circuit on an island in the Nile. . . . Jim Elliott, Villanova track coach, was busy all week turning down invitations for George Guida to run. He plans to stick to his pre-arranged schedule so George won't be overworked. . . . President Jimmy Gaston of the Greenville, S. C., Spinners in the Sally League is known as "Senator" to his pals though he never has been elected to any public office. Jimmy has the habit of running on the Republican ticket in a Democratic stronghold.

Weak End Items
At least 32 colleges, mostly in the East and South, will field varsity basketball teams this spring. . . . Gulfstream Park, seaside race track, has set out channel markers in the infield lake for a fleet of sail boats which will be kept there. Wotta chance for jags about boat races! . . . Club house man Dan Comerford, who is in his 41st season with the Dodgers, still carries a picture of the 1907 Brooklyn squad—16 players who were paid a total of $48,000. Bet Branch Rickey has a fit every time he sees it.

TWIN CITY TENNIS CLUB TO MEET TUESDAY NIGHT

The Twin City Tennis Club will meet Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Recreation Center.

Stanley Wyatt, the president, urges all tennis enthusiasts to be present. Important subjects will be brought up and discussed. Anyone, regardless of age, can become a member.

DEMONS QUALIFY FOR K. C. TOURNEY

Northwestern Squeezes Past Centenary Gentlemen, 38 To 36

NATCHITOCHES, La., March 1.—(AP)—Overcoming a trailing, 18-16 half-time score, Northwestern Demon cagers defeated Centenary College of Shreveport, 38-36, here tonight for the right to represent Louisiana in the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament in Kansas City, Mo., March 10-15.

The score was tied six times during the close fracas, with the Demons breaking the deadlock twice to play the time with accurate long shots by Stroutamire, regular forward.

Northwestern opened the scoring parade with a foul shot made by Stroutamire, but the Centenary Gentlemen came back with a field goal to lead, 2-1 in the opening minutes of the game.

At the end of the first quarter, the Demons had forged ahead 11-10. However all round play by C. Strong, Gent forward, and Thomas Moses, guard, pushed the gentlemen ahead at the half-time.

Scoring goal for goal in the third quarter, the teams were tied, 31-31, with 10 minutes left to play.

When Caron, Gent center, touched the Dempsen net when the count was 36-36, officials awarded the Northwestern team two points, the margin of victory.

KENTUCKY STARS LAND ALL FIRST TEAM SPOTS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 1.—(AP)—All positions on the first All-Southeastern Conference basketball team announced at the annual tournament here tonight were filled by Kentucky players and one other who was on the second team.

Wallace (Wah-Wah) Jones, who played through most of the tournament because of an injury to the Wildcats' regular center, was on the first team with Kentucky forwards Jack Tingle and Joe Holland, and guards Ralph Beard and Kenny Rolins. Griza was on the second team.

Togie became the first player in history to make the team four times. Jones and Beard are repeaters from last year.

Four Kentuckians were on the 1946 team, but the 1947 selections marked the first time one team monopolized the first team.

This year's selections, made through a poll of sports writers and coaches, was sponsored by the Southeastern Conference Coaches Association. In the past, the teams have been named through a poll conducted by the Associated Press.

The selections:

| First Team        | Pos.    |
|-------------------|---------|
| Tingle, Kentucky  | Forward |
| Holland, Kentucky | Forward |
| Jones, Kentucky   | Center  |
| Rolins, Kentucky  | Guard   |
| Beard, Kentucky   | Guard   |

| Second Team            | Pos.    |
|------------------------|---------|
| Athas, Tulane          | Forward |
| Brian, Louisiana State | Forward |
| Perkins, Tulane        | Center  |
| Broyles, Georgia Tech  | Guard   |

CRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD

By Harry Grayson
MIAMI, Fla., March 1.—(NEA)—Herold Ruel is a local boy going home to attempt to make good as a major league manager after 32 years in baseball. Muddy Ruel left the security that goes with being a dignified position that is special assistant to the high commissioner of baseball to return to the war in what hardly can be called a rugged spot.

What prompted the famous old catcher to voluntarily leave a post, in which he virtually ran all of baseball, to pick up the trouble that must go with what obviously is a cantankerous conglomeration of Browns?

"Dick Muckerman and the feel of the game," he replies, like an old fire horse with his ears laid back.

Richard J. Muckerman, the ice, fuel, hotel and brewery baron, talked Ruel into it, it seems, gave him a two-year contract. This is the same Muckerman who fired the thoroughly competent Luke Sewell last season after the Akron rubber man had given him the first American League pennant two years before.

"Muckerman wanted his club run like his business, players handled like cakes of ice," commented Sewell.

But Muckerman convinced Ruel that St. Louis, on the American League side at least, was no longer an outpost to which players were to be shipped down the river.

He had money, determination, desire. The Browns could compete on even footing, financial and otherwise, with the Yankees, Tigers and Red Sox. There was an established farm system. Muckerman purchased Sportsman's Park, is lifting its face to the extent of $500,000. He is building a new park for the San Antonio branch.

Players Ruel didn't want could be disposed of, replacements purchased. This was a going concern.

St. Louis is Ruel's old home town, so he accepted the challenge, agreed to try to lead a seventh-place outfit out of the back country. Ruel has never managed, but in 20 playing years toiled under such leaders as Rickey, Wild Bill Donovan, Huggins, Hugh Duffy, Donie Bush, Harris, Shano Collins, Killefer, Hornsby and Fats Gentry. In Ruel's 22 years as a White Sox coach, Jimmy Dykes left the pitchers entirely to him, and pitching was about all the Pale Hose had over that stretch.

Ruel is modeling himself after Miller Huggins, who helped Cal. Jacob Colpitt and Ed Barrow build the Yankees dynasty and swept the Bronx Bombers to a half-dozen pennants in eight years, which is something better than par for the course. Ruel spent three seasons with the Yanks under Hugg.

"Huggins had insight. His observations were remarkable," says Ruel. "He looked around. It was he who bought Babe Ruth to the Yankees. Previous to that he taught Rogers Hornsby to hit. I recall Hornsby reporting to the Cardinals as a spindly-legged kid trying to poke the ball with his bat choked up. Huggins got his hands down on the handle, developed that beautiful swing."

"I went back to Huggins for advice after I left him."

Ruel—tagged Muddy by playmates as a kid—broke in with the Browns at 19, studied law while playing ball. He practiced law in St. Louis, was last officer in a bank, is the only ball player ever admitted to the supreme court to practice law.

Ruel, his black hair well streaked with gray at 51, was quite a catcher standing only five-feet-nine and weighing no more than 145 pounds soaking wet.

Naturally his greatest thrills came catching all seven games for Washington in the 1924-25 World Series and handling the immortal Walter Johnson.

"I even talked the Big Train into using that dinky curve that was his darling as a change of pace, instead of as a conceiver," he smiles.

Perhaps Muddy Ruel can talk the Browns into something out of the ordinary.

The next little fellow has the background, knowledge and vocabulary.

INVITE DISTRICT BOXERS TO MEET

A.A.U. Tournament Scheduled For Bastrop Gymnasium March 15

BASTROP, La., March 1.—(Special)—Dr. Jack Rawls, chairman of North Louisiana District A. A. U. Boxing Tournament to be held here March 15, announced today the tournament was open to all amateurs in the district and urged that entries for the event be filed not later than March 12.

There are only two A. A. U. boxing teams in this area, the Gastrop Athletic Club team and the Optimist Club outfit of Monroe, but any youths desiring to compete in the event may do so provided they obtain A. A. U. individual membership cards.

Dr. Rawls said he could handle the membership cards for possible entrants provided they filed their applications for A. A. U. membership and 25 cents for their A. A. U. registration fee to him before March 12. Entry forms for possible tourney contestants are printed elsewhere in this sports section today, and the boys are invited to clip them out, fill them in, and mail them to Dr. Rawls.

Boys participating in the tournament will pay their own expenses to Bastrop, but the winners of the meet will get all-expenses-paid invitations to compete in the Southern A. A. U. Tournament at New Orleans, and those coming out on top at New Orleans will have their expenses paid to the National A. A. U. fights in Boston.

The tournament is open to boys sixteen years of age or older in eight weight classes ranging from 112 pounds up.

Weighing in of fighters at Bastrop will begin at 3:30 o'clock the afternoon of March 15. The meeting will be made immediately after, and the fights will take place in the Bastrop High School gymnasium.

TRAUTMAN VISIONS BIG BASEBALL YEAR

DALLAS, Tex., March 1.—(AP)—George M. Trautman, headmaster of the minor leagues, said today that while it was to be regretted that the gambling "fix" had shown up in sports during the past year he could see some benefit from it.

"It is well that it was brought into the open," declared the Dallas, Mo., man who succeeds Judge W. C. Bramham as president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues. "Public opinion will suppress it. Also, it will show us the need for control watchfulness and supervision."

His office is going to do its best to control the situation and will enlist the aid of every club owner, league president and official in the game of baseball to that end.

Trautman, in Dallas for a meeting with ten league presidents as he makes a tour of the minor leagues, said it was a "small minority" that tried to sully the name of baseball. "This small group is from the professional gamblers. I say that any man who tries to influence a boy to do less than his best should be treated as a public enemy."

Meeting with Dallas baseball leaders and sports writers at a luncheon, Trautman predicted the greatest year in history for baseball, pointing to the fact that there will be 51 minor leagues—eight more than last year and the all-time high.

In Dallas he met with presidents of leagues covering Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico, Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma. He goes next to Florida and Georgia, to meet loop presidents from Georgia, Florida and Alabama. That meeting will be March 9.

VICKSBURG FIVE UPSETS NATCHEZ, WINS '8' TITLE

HATTIESBURG, Miss., March 1.—(AP)—The Carr Central High Greenies of Vicksburg, an unseeded darkhorse in pre-tournament ratings, won the Big Eight Conference basketball championship here tonight by defeating the Natchez Rebels, 40-35, before a crowd of more than 2,000 persons.

Coach Sammy Bartling, well-balanced and smooth-working Greenies took the lead late in the first quarter, after early see-sawing, and were never headed. They built up a 19-8 margin midway through the second period, but the scrappy Rebels had turned it to 23-18 at half-time.

In the third quarter the Greenies again spurred and held a 34-24 advantage at its close. With this working margin, they were content to play conservatively in the final stanza allowing Natchez to narrow the gap.

Scoring honors went to Vicksburg's Newwood Yarnado and Lonnie Breithaupt with 12 and 11 points respectively. Bernard Callender and Fred Foster tallied ten each for Natchez.

In semi-finals this afternoon, Vicksburg downed Hattiesburg and Natchez eliminated McComb in a pair of hard fought and closely contested games.

INJURIES, ILLNESS MAR REBELS' SPRING DRILLS

UNIVERSITY, Miss., March 1.—(AP)—Despite evidences of good, rough football, Johnny Vaughn was as bothered today by a hospital list as he was interested in a week-end scrimmage check on the University of Mississippi spring training squad.

More than a dozen Johnny Rebs were on the sidelines. Chief among them the Rebels' able triple-threat, Charley Conerly, and Guard Jimmy Crawford, who is nursing an infected toe.

Flu is troubling four main-stringers in Sam Geise, center; Hank Campbell, guard, and Billy Freeman and Cecil Dickerson, right halfbacks.

Ankle damage has hit Monte Davis, Farley Salmon and Bol Glover, halfbacks and End Charley Galey is back on the scrimmage list but will have to continue to nurse a set of broken thumbs, conspicuous in plaster casts, and a cheek split open last week.

Conerly has a pulled leg muscle. Mud and a biting cold wind hindered today's session, and Vaughn was hoping for a let-up and a chance at a fast windup to his first spring drill with the Rebels as head coach.

The annual Red and Blue game will end the rehearsing March 15.

MODEL AIRCRAFT ACCEPTS SPONSOR

At the regular meeting of the Monroe Model Aircraft Club Friday night, it was decided to accept the offer of sponsorship, that was given by the Exchange Club at their weekly dinner meeting last week.

Jac Combs and Bill Vincent were invited as the model club's representatives to speak at this dinner. They spoke to the Exchange Club members on the education advantages of the model club in engineering, fundamental construction and aerodynamics. It was also explained that the contests that will be held would encourage fair play and sportsmanship in all boys.

Combs, the modelers president, went into details in regards as to what types of airplanes that could be expected in the near future. The most outstanding of these were the jet and diesel engines, both of which require nothing but fuel to run.

Another new member was admitted into the model club. His name is Wesley Cretney. This brings the total number of members in the club to thirty.

The club still hasn't a place to fly due to certain conditions that still prevail. Until such a place is found the club will be unable to fly as a group.

Combs said he wished to extend an invitation to all boys of the Twin City to come and attend the club's meetings any Friday night.

OLHAVERRY WINS AT SANTA ANITA

Favored Armed, Top-Weighted Finishes Out Of Money In Handicap

ARCADIA, Calif., March 1.—(AP)—Silver's Olhaverry won the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap today as favored Armed made a great bid coming around the far turn but seemed to waver as if tiring under the impost of 129 pounds in the stretch, Olhaverry carried 116 pounds.

Olhaverry, a 15-1 shot, came from behind in the stretch to whip Stich Again by one length. Pere Time was third, with See-See and Armed right behind.

A gray importation from Chile, Olhaverry was ridden by Jockey Melvin Peterson.

Armed made a great bid coming around the far turn but seemed to waver as if tiring under the impost of 129 pounds in the stretch, Olhaverry carried 116 pounds.

Olhaverry's money standing remained unchanged as he failed to pick up any part of the purse. He stands third with $459,775 behind Whirlaway, with $561,161 and Styxie, $516,285.

Olhaverry paid $32.70, $15.00 and $10.50, Stich Again, $17.00 and $11.80, Pere Time, $16.00. The prices were boosted substantially as Armed even-money favorite, ran out.

The time was 2:01 4/5 for the mile and one quarter.

The winner's share was $100,000 guarantee. Stich again took $20,000 for second place, Pere Time $10,000, with See-See $5,000 for fourth. Armed just missed part of the money,

AMAZING FILM WILL BE SHOWN

'God Of Creation' Sound Movie
To Be Exhibited
Here

Vivid full-color scenes from astronomy and natural science are featured in "The God of Creation," sound motion picture to be shown at 7:30 p. m. Friday (March 7), at the Loch Harbor Baptist Church, Route No. 3, according to the Rev. W. R. Rogers, pastor.

Produced in Moody Institute of Science, West Coast department of Moody Bible Institute, by Irwin A. Moon, Sc. D., "The God of Creation" is the second in a series of evangelistic films. The first film by Dr. Moon, "They Live Forever," had a large showing in all parts of the country.

In the opening section of "The God of Creation" the audience takes a trip to the stars by means of solar photographs taken through the giant 100-inch telescope of Mt. Wilson Observatory in southern California, and views complex gyrations of our own solar system.

Lapse-time photography is utilized to demonstrate the beauties of natural science. The illusion of flower buds developing into full-blown blossoms

SCIENCE-PASTOR

Dr. Irwin A. Moon, of Moody Bible Institute, seen above, in one of his "Sermons from Science" demonstrations, is the producer of the sound-color film, "The God of Creation," to be shown at 7 p. m. Friday, March 7, at the Loch Harbor Baptist Church.

In a few seconds is created through this time-compressing photo technique. The metamorphosis of a caterpillar through the various stages from worm to butterfly, and pollination of flowers are seen on the screen in full color.

Believed to be the first of their kind are the natural-color pictures of photosynthesis, the mysterious food-manufacturing process resulting from the action of sunlight on green leaves. Through photomicrography the audience peers into the microscopic world of a drop of water and observes the complexity of tiny organisms, enlarged more than a million times.

"The God of Creation" will be presented by Rev. Melton M. Mosley, Moody, film representative.

PAY HIKE GAINED BY GLASS CUTTERS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 1. —(AP)—Sylvester Garrett of Philadelphia, spokesman for the Libby-Owens-Ford Glass Company and the Pittsburgh Glass Company, announced tonight a new agreement with the Window Glass Cutters League of America (A. F. of L.) providing for an average wage increase of four cents an hour for union members.

Garrett said plants of the Pittsburgh Glass Company at Clarksburg, W. Va., Mount Vernon, Ohio, and Henryette, Okla., and of the Libby-Owens-Ford Glass Company at Charleston, W. Va., and Shreveport, La., were effected by the agreement. Garrett said in a statement: "A number of other changes in working conditions were agreed to. The parties also agreed that the question of a further general wage increase and the league's request for a health and welfare program may be considered at any time between March 8, 1947, and March 8, 1948, at the request of the league."

The modern word "bonfire" derives from bone fire descriptive of funeral pyres in the Middle Ages.

'THE VISITOR' IS CALLED THRILLER

Wig And Mask Club To Stage
Drama At Northeast
Junior College

"The Visitor," a three-act drama by Kenneth White, which is acclaimed by critics as a psychological thriller with an unexpected climax, will be staged by the Wig and Mask Club of Northeast Junior College in Brown Hall auditorium March 14 at 8 p. m. Miss Jean Bains, instructor in speech, is directing the production.

The play, which is based on the novel by Carl Randau and Leane Zugsmith, revolves around the question, "Is Bud Really Bad?" Three long bitter years have elapsed since Judith Cunningham's son, Bud Owen, mysteriously disappeared. The town gossip remembers that Bud quarreled with his friend Joe Willard on the night he was last seen. They believe that Joe killed him and that his body was swept out to sea.

Then Bud appears. His mother welcomes him with hysterical joy and his stepfather pays the $10,000 reward he offered for his return. But they are greatly perplexed by the changes in him. Does one really forget so much in three years? Again and again Bud's stories fall apart. Tension mounts swiftly to a thrilling and unexpected end.

Johnny Mullin, West Monroe sophomore, who has been active in dramatic circles here, takes the lead role as Bud Owen. Mullin recently appeared in the Wig and Mask production, "Adam's Evening." He is a member of Delta Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity, and has played in numerous college productions.

Fredericka Merriman, Monroe freshman, has the leading feminine role as Judith Cunningham. Miss Merriman also appeared in "Adam's Evening."

Sylvester Beards will be seen as Judith's loving husband, David Cunningham. Beards recently was seen in the Monroe Little Theatre's "Male Animal." Ruth Horton is cast as Ellen Wood, the girl next door, who is in love with Joe Willard, a role played by Jimmy Terry. Walter Dawson, brother of Judith and Bud's wistful uncle, will be played by Fred James. Dorothy Addison plays the part of the inquisitive maid, Elizabeth. George Muller will take the part of Mack Burrell, retired police chief.

The great showman, Herman Shumlin, recently produced "The Visitor" at the Henry Miller Theater in New York. The drama holds its own as one of Broadway's most unique mysteries.

OPERATOR WHO SAVED LIVES OF 47 EXPIRES

MERIDIAN, Miss., March 1. —(AP)—Wallace H. Copp, 62, of Meridian who gained national recognition in 1910 when as an operator, he saved the lives of 47 persons on a sinking ship at sea by sending wireless messages, died at his home here Saturday.

The SOS calls were sent out during a blizzard and resulted in the rescue of the ship captain and 46 men. Copp was the first wireless operator to cover President W. H. Taft's inauguration in 1909 for the outside world when the capital was storm-bound and outside communications were cut off.

Survivors are Copp's wife and a brother. Burial will take place in Meridian Sunday.

COMMODITIES GO UPWARD SHARPLY

Weekly Advance In Prices Is Greatest Since Early December

CHICAGO, March 1. —(AP)—Most commodities smashed through to higher price levels on the nation's markets this week for the sharpest weekly advance since early in December, 1946.

Grunting porkers in livestock pens featured the advance in the upward price swirl. In the nation's packing center at Chicago, hogs were worth $30.00 a hundred pounds on Tuesday, highest in history, and the river markets on the Mississippi and those of interior Iowa reported the same story of fabulously priced pigs.

A scramble developed for wheat at Kansas City and Minneapolis, while wheat for future delivery on the Chicago Board of Trade soared to the highest level in 27 years today at $2.62. The agriculture department decided to make a study of the market.

Although hogs and wheat held the center of interest in the price spectacle, other commodities provided a large supporting cast. Corn, oats, barley, cotton, cattle, butter, eggs, flour and lard were higher.

Metals joined in the upswing. Lead surged to an historic high at 14 cents a pound in New York. Copper was higher. And silver, after remaining stationary for five weeks, advanced 9 1/2 cents to 80 1/4 cents an ounce, with Belgian buyers providing an international touch to the rise.

The Associated Press average of 35 wholesale commodities, advancing for the fifth consecutive week, reached an all time high of 175.92. A year ago the average was 113.67. This week's gain was the largest since early in December.

Reasons for the advance were varied. Hog supplies of 48,000 head for the week were the lowest at Chicago since October, 1946. And livestock men said arrivals were scarcer than anticipated. Buyers turned to cattle to make up the volume deficiency in pork, but receipts of 39,300 cattle were the lowest since Christmas.

In grains, large exports to foreign countries to meet food shortages were considered by traders as major factors in the upturn. Other food commodities were higher in sympathy with the wheat and grain advance. Lead was a critically short metal which buyers wanted with little regard for price.

Here are some of the week's advances: Hogs 17 1/2 to 24 1/2 cents a pound live weight, cattle 10 to 25 cents a pound, hens 4 to 6 cents a pound, butter 3 1/2 to 4 cents a pound and eggs 1 to 3 1/2 cents a dozen.

Wheat futures were up 15 1/2 to 27 3/4 cents a bushel and corn 18 to 19 cents at Chicago. Cash wheat on prominent grades was 23 to 30 cents higher at Kansas City and 18 to 20 cents higher at Minneapolis. No. 2 dark hard wheat closed at $2.53 to $2.57 a bushel today at Kansas City.

Flax and rye were both at record highs in Minneapolis. Flax, up 75 cents a bushel for the week, closed today at $3.50, rye was up 20 to 27 cents and closed at $3.50-$3.52.

Cotton futures closed the week around $1.00 to $2.00 a bale higher at New Orleans and New York.

The photo-electric cell is being used by scientists at Columbia College, Buffalo, N. Y., to detect earthquakes.

AFTERNOON TEA ATTENDED BY FASHIONABLE MONROE HONORS A POPULAR BRIDE-TO-BE

Miss Vyvian Harper, beautiful blonde daughter of Judge and Mrs. William Harper was the focus of all eyes in the home of Mrs. James A. Noe where a reception, attracting fashionable Monroe almost en masse, was given in her honor with Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, co-hostess.

Miss Harper was wearing a lovely, white silk evening model of charming simplicity. It was embellished in white applique and was fashioned drop-shoulder effect. Mrs. Noe was wearing a fuchsia colored evening model with handsome diamond clips and Mrs. Tisdale wore a black crepe dinner model trimmed in iridescent beads and a matching ostrich tip in her hair.

The two charming mothers of the bride and groom-elect, Mrs. William Harper and Mrs. Maurice Frazier, beautifully gowned, were also in the receiving line. Mrs. Frazier wore a dinner model of aqua crepe and Mrs. Harper wore a dinner model of aqua silk crepe adroitly draped at the waistline.

The Noe home with sun parlor, drawing room and dining room aptly was adorned with spring flowers. The piece de resistance was the arrangement of yellow and orchid tulips, pink gladioli and pastel colored snapdragons overflowing from an im-

Miss Wooten Is The Bride Of Mr. F. Reese

Interest is centered in the wedding of Miss Margie Winfred Wooten, daughter of Mrs. M. W. Wooten and the late Dr. Wooten of Mangham, La., and Mr. Frellsen Reese, son of Mr. H. H. Reese and the late Mrs. Reese of Baskin, La., at the home of Mrs. James M. Sims of Ruston with Rev. Louis Hoffpauir officiating.

An improvised altar was reared between the wide, double windows in the living room. Southern smilax formed the background and overhead was suspended a cluster of white satin wedding bells. The altar was flanked with tall white floor baskets filled with white carnations, anemones and fern.

A brief concert was rendered by Mrs. James M. Sims, aunt of the bride. She also accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Paul Chapman who sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told".

The candles were lighted by Miss Dorothy Elta Goff and Miss Sara Anne Cann both of whom wore lovely evening models.

Miss Mary Kate Collins, wearing a spring model of dusty rose with corsage of white carnations served as bridesmaid. Mr. Cayle Reese served as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. Robert B. Sims, wore a beautiful tulle of beige with brown accessories and a corsage of purple orchids.

An informal reception was held following the ceremony.

In the dining room the bride's table was overlaid with a white satin damask cloth, was centered with a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake, surrounded with white carnations. The centerpiece was a cut glass epergne filled with white carnations and plumosa fern flanked on each side with two-branched crystal candelabra with burning tapers. Extending from the center to the corners and sides of the table were small white satin ribbon streamers tied at intervals with small bow-knots of split carnations. Two crystal swan bowls filled with white carnations were placed at either end of the table. Miss Bernice Reese presided at the punch bowl. After the bride and groom cut the cake, Mrs. Mary E. Sibbald and Miss Mollie B. Reese, assisted by Misses Goff and Cann, Mrs. A. A. Cann and Mrs. Dallas Lomax served the confectios.

Mrs. Benjamin I. Berry of Winnboro, presided at the bride's guest book.

The young couple will make their home in Memphis, Tenn. The bride is a graduate of Mangham High School, attended L. S. U. two years and is a senior at La. Tech. The groom graduated from Baskin High School in 1936, entering L. S. U. and receiving his degree in Civil Engineering in 1940. He entered the U. S. Army in March 1946 with the rank of Major, and at that time was attached to the 6th Engineer company. He served three and one-half years in the Pacific Theater. At present he is connected, as an engineer, with Byrd White Construction Co., Memphis, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Reese spent their honeymoon in Old Mexico. Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Berry, Winnboro; Mrs. Mary E. Sibbald and Misses Bernice and Mollie B. Reese, Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chapman of Archibald; Mrs. Evelyn Baker, Shreveport; Mr. F. B. King, Homer; Mr. and Mrs. Tom McKay, Archibald; Mr. and Mrs. Coyle Reese, Baskin; Mrs. Cordia Bennett and Miss Mary Bennett, of Dubach; R. E. Burt, Jr., Simsboro; Mrs. M. W. Wooten, Mangham. Hilton, Mrs. Pat Deason, Mrs. Elaine Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fraser, Miss Mary Kate Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Sims, Miss Sara Anne Cann, Miss Dorothy Elta Goff.

Friends in this area are interested in the following announcement: "Mr. and Mrs. William A. Lovelady of Decatur and Richmond, Va., announce the engagement of their daughter, Mrs. Billie Lowery, to Charles Evans Herring, of Lake Providence, La."

Mrs. Lowery is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Key, of Phenix City, Ala., and the late Mr. and Mrs. Cobb W. Lovelady. She is the sister of Mrs. George G. Weis, of Norfolk, Va., and the widow of the late Lieut. Andrew A. Lowery, USMCR. She attended Richmond schools and business college in Atlanta and, during the war served with the local Red Cross at Emory University Hospital.

The bridegroom-elect is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Herring of Lake Providence, La. His mother is the former Minnie Elizabeth Herron of Yazoo City, Miss., a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Herron.

Mr. Herring attended school at Yazoo City and obtained a B. S. degree from Mississippi Southern College, Hattiesburg. He served on the college paper staff and was outstanding in sports. He was discharged in November 1945, after serving 41 months with the Army Air Forces. He served in Italy and Corsica with the 319th Bomb Group.

Mr. Herring is now associated with the postoffice department at Lake Providence and has farming interests. He is commander of the East Carroll Memorial Post 6453, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Mrs. Lowery arrived in Lake Providence on Saturday. The wedding will take place in Lake Providence on March 8.

Prominent Weddings Claimed Attention Of Monroe Society Over Week End

Miss Naiden Weds Mr. Charles Finlayson

Wedding At Presbyterian Church Is Followed By A Brilliant Reception

Sheaves of superb Calla lilies were silhouetted against a background of glistening magnolia leaves and woodwardia fern on the altar of the First Presbyterian church when Miss Satchie Cooper Naiden, daughter of Mrs. Earl LaRue Naiden of this city, and Mr. Charles Robert Finlayson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Finlayson, of Tyler, Tex., plighted their troth at seven-thirty o'clock on the evening of February 22 with the pastor, Rev. Ernest Holloway, wearing the ecclesiastical robe of office, performing the impressive ceremony.

Calla lilies were caught ingeniously to the tall, wrought iron, seven-branched candelabra placed in a semi-circle on the altar and in the background. Calla lilies also outlined the choir loft entwined with fern and magnolia leaves. He white carpeted steps, leading to the altar, were flanked with tall pedestal urns overflowing with Calla lilies. Cathedral tapers also gleamed in the deep, stained-glass window sills.

The lighting of the tapers by Robert and George Holt was an impressive feature of the ceremony.

A distinctive decorative note was achieved by the use of tall standards entwined with magnolia leaves and supporting a single, tall white taper, placed at intervals along the white carpeted aisle down which the bride walked with her grandfather, Mr. Allan Sholars, who gave her in marriage.

At the nuptial hour, the organist, Mr. Leon Hammond, rendered a brilliant concert featuring "Theme from Concerto" No. 1, by Tschaiowsky Opus 23, "Theme from Second Concerto," by Rachmaninov, "When Day Is Done," by Robert Katscher and "Clare de Lune," by Debussy.

Mr. Hammond also accompanied the soloists, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wagner, who sang "Alone," by Romberg, "Thine Alone" (a duet) by Victor Herbert, "Mavis" by Harold Craxton and "The Lord's Prayer" by Albert Day Mallotte.

Fashionable Throng It was a fashionable throng that walked down the aisle. Mrs. Earl Naiden, the bride's mother, was stunning in a wood-brown crepe dinner gown and small hat fashioned of loops of pink veiling. Her long gloves were of pink doeklin.

The groom's mother, Mrs. James A. Finlayson wore a beautiful pink gown of lace-trimmed hammered crepe. Her hat and gloves were of the same shade of pink. A corsage of pink briarcliff roses completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Kendrick James of Houston, aunt of the bride, wore a handsome gown of leaf-green crepe trimmed with corsage of rich brown roses. Her hat was fashioned of tulle and roses to match and her gloves were the same shade as the hat.

The groom's grandmother, Mrs. Vincent Crawshaw of Denver, Colorado, wore an elegant gown of black lace. A bird-of-paradise ornament added a distinctive touch to her beautifully coiffed hair. A handsome shawl was also worn. Her corsage was of mystery gardenias.

Mrs. Allan Sholars wore a lovely pink lace dinner gown with small hat of wine and green satin. Her corsage was a perfect match to her hat.

The groomsmen, high school classmates of the bride, were: Randolph Brown, William Husted, O. B. Frazier, George Holt, Robert Holt, Theo Terzia. The bride's sister, Miss Charlotte Naiden, served as maid of honor and the bridesmaids were: Misses Vyvian Harper, Joyce Siegle, Dorothea Girault, Sandy Rowe of San Antonio, Texas, Miss Mary Brownrigg and Miss Caroline Bruce of Houston, Texas.

Miss Naiden wore a period gown of aquamarine blue satin fashioned along lines similar to that of the bride. It featured drop shoulders, fitted bodice, draped polonaise skirt with bustle effect at back of waist line. A cloche of the same period adorned with matching ostrich tip and veil. Long gloves of aquamarine blue were worn. She carried a bouquet of pink camellias.

The bridesmaids wore period gowns of frost pink hammered satin, similar to that of the bride and identical to that of the maid of honor with the exception of color. They also wore cloches and gloves of frost pink hammered satin and carried bouquets of pink camellias.

The flower girl, Nancy Snellings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Snellings, Jr., was a miniature of Miss Charlotte Naiden. She carried a basket of rose petals which she scattered along the aisle down which the bride walked. For a little girl of five, she displayed unusual grace and poise.

The groomsmen were: Messrs. Aron Carter, Jr., of Fort Worth, William Rudd of Waskon, Texas; Allan James of Houston, James Helland of San Antonio, James Alphin of El Dorado,

Mr. Allan Sholars who gave his granddaughter, Miss Satchie Naiden in marriage when she became the bride of Mr. Charles Finlayson, is seen with the little flower girl, Nancy Snellings, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Snellings, Jr. The picture was taken at the reception in the crystal ballroom of the Virginia Hotel.

Ark; and Donovan Campbell of Tyler, Texas.

Mr. Finlayson walked to the altar with his best man, Mr. James A. Finlayson, Jr.

Bride Wears Satin The bride wore an original model by Tofel of imported candlelight satin with a deep drop shoulder, sculptured bodice, glove-fitting sleeves which extended into lace-trimmed points over the hands. Polonaise draped skirt which was caught in a Victorian bustle and the cathedral train fell in deep folds from the waist line. A rare rose-point lace bertha, from her maternal grandmother's wedding gown, enhanced the neckline of the dress. Her luminous veil was of heirloom rose-point lace. She carried a real lace handkerchief belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Kendrick James. The groom's gift, a string of pearls, was worn. The bride's bouquet was fashioned of gorgeous white glamour roses and glossy green leaves. It was exquisite in its elegant simplicity.

Brilliant Reception A brilliant reception, with orchestral music heard throughout the evening, was held in the crystal ballroom of the Virginia hotel. Magnolia boughs, reminiscent of southern gardens, banked the orchestral balcony and hid the musicians from view. Tall floor pedestal urns overflowing with white stock, white gladioli, white carnations and white snapdragons, were placed at the entrance to the ballroom and at either end of the receiving line.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Sholars, Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick James, aunt and uncle of the bride; Mrs. Vincent Crawshaw, grandmother of the groom, met the guests at the entrance to the ballroom.

In the receiving line were: Mrs. Earl Naiden, Mr. and Mrs. James Finlayson, the bride and groom, Miss Charlotte Naiden, Mr. James Finlayson, Jr., and the bridesmaids and groomsmen.

The bride's table, a large round one of glistening mahogany, was placed at one end of the ballroom. The central decor was an immense reflector on which the wedding cake, a magnificent confection designed as a double

Miss Kathleen Myers Is February Bride

Marriage Of Miss Myers And Mr. Spear Is One Of The Season's Prominent Nuptials

A wedding characterized by lovely simplicity and one that was widely attended by friends and relatives took place at the First Methodist Church, February 22 when Miss Kathleen Roberta Myers, daughter of Mrs. John Wilson Myers and the late John W. Myers, became the bride of Mr. Todd Spear, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Spear of Bastrop, La., at five o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. A. M. Serex officiated.

The late afternoon sun trickled through the stained glass windows and lighted the shadowy recesses of the altar where Calla lilies overflowed from tall pedestal urns placed against a background of southern smilax. Myriad cathedral tapers burning in tall floor candelabra also pricked the dimness of the altar. The tapers were lighted while the organist, Mrs. P. A. Poag rendered a pre-nuptial concert. She accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Jack Hays, who sang in beautiful voice, "Because" and "At Dawning."

The bride's attendant, her sister, Mrs. Morgan Landry of Lafayette, La., wore a beautiful begonia colored crepe model with shirred bodice and long, full, pleated skirt. She carried a Colonial bouquet of pale pink sweet peas tied with long lengths of begonia colored satin ribbons.

The flower girl, Dixie McConnell, the bride's niece, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McConnell, wore a charming little frock, an exact replica of the bride's gown and carried a miniature bride's bouquet of white sweet peas and white hyacinth.

The groomsmen were Mr. Robert George and Mr. Jack Pyle of Bastrop. Mr. Lannie H. Peavy served the bridegroom as best man.

The bride walked down the candlelit aisle with her brother, Mr. John W. Myers, who gave her in marriage. Her wedding gown of traditional satin was fashioned with a shirred bodice and long tight fitting sleeves ending in points over the hands. A deep yoke of transparent net was edged, bertha effect, with beautiful rosepoint lace. The wedding veil of illusion was caught to her hair with a chaplet of lilies of the valley.

The wedding bouquet, of exceeding beauty, was fashioned of white sweet peas, gardenias and valley lilies tied with long loops of white satin ribbon. The reception at the home of the son.

Members of St. Matthew's Parish Sodality met in the home of Miss Freddy Reams, where their director, Rev. H. W. Hubley, was the guest of honor before his departure from this city.

Rev. Hubley, who organized the Sodality two years ago and whose departure from this city, is regretted by all who know him and especially by the Sodality, will fill a pastoral in Baton Rouge, La. Although he will be greatly missed it is the hope of all his friends that his parish work will be as successful as it has been in Monroe where he is generally beloved.

The serving of delicious refreshments climaxed the evening's pleasures. The beautifully appointed table was adorned with a luscious cake inscribed with the words "Good Luck Father Hubley." A purse was presented to him at this time from the Sodality.

Before leaving, Rev. Hubley addressed those present in customary inspirational manner.

Present were Misses Freddy Reams, Alice Tichell, Rose Danna, Laura Leah Worsham, Christine Romana, Josephine Anzalone, Gussie Jacola, Frances Peacasting, Josephine Carso, Sarah Messina, Nancy Dispenza, Melba Meziel, Elizabeth Joseph, Mary Messina, Angie Miller, Rose Messina, Josephine Cuscio, Marie Zagone, Wadel Elias, Josephine Zagone, Martha Messina, Mary Louise Deaveraux, and Lena Siara.

bride's sister, Mrs. Aubrey Boyd attracted a throng of guests who were received by the mothers of the bride and groom and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd. Mrs. Myers wore a navy sheer model with draped skirt and a corsage of white camellias. Mrs. Spear wore a black crepe model with corsage of white camellias.

Mrs. R. E. McConnell and Mrs. Charles Jordan, sisters of the bride, beautifully gowned, assisted in receiving.

The reception suite was adorned with spring flowers, white tulle, white hyacinth and calla lilies overflowing from classic shaped urns.

The bride's table in the dining room, a poem of loveliness was developed exclusively in silver and white. The two-tiered, heart-shaped wedding cake imbedded in waxen white camellias and valley lilies formed the central decor. On either side of the cake tall, slender candles gleamed in crystal candelabra tied with fluffy lengths of silvery tulle.

Iced frappe and individual cakes, beautifully embossed were served by Mrs. John Alder, of Sikeston, Mo., Mrs. James McCormick, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Robert Cann, the bride's aunt.

The bride cut her wedding cake and then changed her gown for a smart tulle of navy blue with blue accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

The bride, a popular member of Monroe's younger set, is a graduate of Northeast Junior College. She is a member of Delta Beta Sigma sorority and has been active in Junior League work.

Mr. Spear is a graduate of the Louisiana State University and is associated with the Severance airport.

The out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: Mr. Jack Spear, Mr. and Mrs. James McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Ard, Miss Wayne Ard, Mrs. John M. Morris, Mrs. Ernestine Todd, Mrs. Robert Barr Todd, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Todd, Jr., Mr. Jimmy Todd, Mr. Elliott Spear, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brodnax, Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Patterson, Miss Sallie Ann Patterson, Mrs. Irma Robinson, Miss Tina Collins, Miss Estelle Harris, Miss Lucie Jane Hays, Mrs. F. P. Robinson, and Mrs. R. M. Richmond, of Bastrop; Mrs. Ruth Todd Gibbs, of Shreveport, La.; Mr. and Mrs. John Alder, of Sikeston, Mo.; Miss Floy Rhodes, of New Orleans, La.; and Mrs. Johnnie Goodlet, of Vallejo, Calif.

Mrs. J. D. Wilkerson of Rockdale, Texas; Mr. H. W. Ellerson and son, Watkins of Roanoke Rapids, N. C., are guests in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Thompson.

"SOMETHING NEW BETWEEN YOU AND THE SUN"

Presented by THE HOME OF AWNINGS

16% COOLER INSIDE "Air Conditioning Starts With Awnings" Say Engineers

Awnings reduce the rise in temperature in your house due to the radiation of direct sun rays by approximately 16%. This fact was established by General Electric Engineers through tests made in the Air Conditioning House operated by the General Electric Company for research purposes. If you are planning to install an air conditioning system, awnings will make possible a saving in the cost of this installation because a smaller unit may be used. Regardless of whether or not you have an air conditioning system in your house, awnings will keep the average house 12% to 20% cooler all summer long. You'd be surprised how little good awnings cost. Won't you phone us for an estimate? Our representative will gladly call at your home and show you awning styles and fabrics most suitable for your purposes.

Y. W. C. A. Members
Attend Conference
In El Dorado

One of the outstanding events looked forward to by all of the business and professional girls of the Y. W. C. A. of Arkansas and Monroe, Louisiana, is the Annual Week-End Conference. This past week-end, February 22nd-23rd, twenty-one delegates from the Monroe Y. W. C. A. attended the Conference which was held in El Dorado, Ark.

The theme of the conference was: "Emotionally Speaking . . . How's Your Balance?" Mrs. Clara Beam of Hot Springs was the conference chairman and presided at all the meetings. Highlighting the conference discussions and program was the talk and discussion of the topic "Why We Act Like We Do," by Dr. Melvin Winer, Psychiatrist of Veteran's Hospital, Fort Roots, North Little Rock, Ark. Each association was responsible for some part of the conference program. Hot Springs delegation was responsible for all the music and group singing; the girls from Helena were responsible for the very lovely and inspiring worship services to open and close the conference sessions; Texarkana was responsible for all the cute, attractive programs that the conference had. El Dorado was in charge of the banquet and Ft. Smith was in charge of the very entertaining and clever program which was a "Bathing Beauty Revue—showing bathing suits from the year 1885 to 1947 . . . My! My! What a change!"

Little Rock was in charge of securing the speakers for the conference . . . for securing the psychiatrist; Pine Bluff was in charge of the program at the "morning breakfast." The responsibility of the Monroe association was to open forum for the discussion of problems which confront all the clubs and a discussion of the Y. W. C. A. organization and the responsibility each member has in interpreting what the Y. W. C. A. is and means in the local community.

Miss Bess Sharp, executive director of the Monroe Y. W. C. A., was in charge of the discussions. On Sunday morning at the business meeting Miss

MRS. LAWRENCE BONNECAZE, JR.

Mrs. Bonneau, Jr., bride of recent date is the former Miss Lynn Chandler, daughter of Mrs. Ada Mae Stewart of this city. Mr. Bonneau is the son of Mrs. Stella J. Bonneau and the late Mr. L. J. Bonneau of New Orleans.

Nova Jean Hanna was elected as the conference chairman for 1948 and Ft. Smith will be hostess city for the conference, also. Mrs. Clara Beam gave a report of the summer conference and thus brought in the interpretation of the relationship the business and professional girls to the whole organization of the Y. W. C. A. as a most vital and integral part with over 60,000 members in the seven regions of the United States.

More than 175 girls from Arkansas and Monroe, La., attended the conference. Those who attended from Monroe association were: Mrs. Barney Mulhern, chairman of the Youth Adult committee of the Y. W. C. A.; Miss Maude Brownlee, president of the Business and Professional Girls' Club; Miss Helen Hayes, president of the YoWCa Business Girls' Club; Miss Ann Mickel, Miss Lilien Glenn, Miss Myrtle Johnson, Miss Allie Marie Coates, Miss "Pat" Patrick, Mrs. Creeda Mortensen, Miss Lydell Wilson, Miss Laverne Meek, Mrs. Mary Rigal, Miss D. L. O. Puckett who was the voting delegate, Miss Johnetta Sisson who was a voting delegate, Miss Nell Hayes, Miss Mattie Alice Givens, Miss Lucille Wallace, Miss Winifred McWhorter, Mrs. Louise Phillips, Miss Ella Pearl Sutton, and Miss Bess Sharp.

Interest is centered in the announcement of the marriage of Modena Roscoe Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stewart of this city, and D. C. Boulware on Friday, February 14 at 8:30 p. m.

The bride wore a moss green suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid with yellow iris and white carnations. Her matron of honor was Mrs. J. D. Strange, who wore a white pin-striped suit with brown and white accessories. Mr. J. D. Strange served the groom as best man. The ceremony, performed by Rev. I. L. Yeager, pastor of the Stone Ave. Methodist church, took place at Rev. Yeager's home.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at Palmers restaurant with Mrs. Grace Palmos, hostess. The beautifully appointed table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake.

Mrs. Irving Wolff took this opportunity to present the bride with two beautiful paintings as a wedding gift. The dinner guests in addition to the bride and groom were: Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Strange, Dr. and Mrs. Irving Wolff, Mrs. Mignon Jones, Mrs. Doris Jordan, Miss Helen Lunn, Mrs. Myrtle Gancy, Mr. Jim Stewart, Miss Patricia Granger and Mrs. Gayle Tournat.

Mr. and Mrs. Boulware will be at home to their friends in a few weeks at 603 Benton ave.

JUDGE CHRIS BARNETTE IS
GUEST SPEAKER AT MEETING OF THE DELTA RHO DELTA

Judge Chris Barnette, juvenile judge of Caddo parish, Shreveport, spoke to the Delta Rho Delta sorority on the subject of "Atomic Teenagers" Monday evening, February 10.

Judge Barnette stated that juvenile delinquency is one of our national problems at the present time. There is apparently a wave of juvenile crimes sweeping our country today. The children who commit these crimes are abnormal. We must not blame all youth and we must not think of all as "atomic teenagers."

Delinquency is the reflection of our own social instability. Throughout the world, during the war-time period, we had families moving from place to place, living under conditions they were not accustomed to, away from the conventions of home and there was a general "let down."

Let us think of ourselves as setting the pace for children. We condemn the children and think it is a shame that they do not adjust themselves to our social order and our way of life. Children were born into the social order that already existed. We built the churches, the schools, the community, the night clubs—all influences, both good and evil.

Society should adjust itself more to the needs of children.

Our children merely seek the things we seek. They are seeking happiness just as we are.

We have become a nation too much in the pursuit of idle pleasure rather than the pursuit of happiness. Real happiness, true happiness is built upon virtue.

Let us build our happiness on the things which are virtuous and in doing so we will set an example for our children to follow and their pursuit will be along the proper path.

Are you interested in how many displaced persons there are in the world today this far after the war? Why are there displaced persons in a world at peace? Hear this explained at the League of Women Voters meeting Tuesday night in the Health building at 8:00 p. m.

Monroe Garden Club Meets With
Mrs. J. Breard

An interesting meeting of the Monroe Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. John M. Breard with the vice-president, Mrs. Wilson Ewing presiding.

The subject discussed was "Conservation of Our Woodlands and Roadside Plantings by Adequate Fire Control in Ouachita Parish" by Mrs. Charles M. Mitchell, public relations chairman. Mrs. Mitchell said that there was a great need of fire towers, and men organized to fight fire in the woodlands of the parish. Fires, she said, have raged uncontrolled along the highways and byways in the past several weeks, and unestimable damage has been the results.

Three new members, Mrs. Grover Holloway, Mrs. E. W. Cruse, and Mrs. Booles Breed were welcomed into the club at this time. During the social hour the guests were invited into the dining room where coffee and confections were served from a beautifully appointed table by the hostesses, Mrs. Breard, Mrs. Allen Sholars, Mrs. Wesley Shatto, Mrs. A. E. Montgomery and Mrs. C. P. Jarrell.

Members present were Mrs. Carl

McHenry, Mrs. J. B. Kugler, Mrs. Booles Breed, Mrs. J. W. Thatcher, Jr., Mrs. R. C. Speirles, Mrs. E. W. Cruse, Mrs. George W. Lester, Mrs. B. B. Beasley, Mrs. L. R. Simpson, Mrs. Wilson Ewing, Mrs. Ray Junod, Mrs. Charles M. Mitchell, Mrs. A. G. McHenry, Mrs. V. H. Kyle, Jr., Mrs. Grover Holloway, Mrs. W. C. Oliver, Mrs. Stanley Blower, Mrs. Gladys Sperry, Mrs. R. Taylor, Mrs. Frank Kennedy, Mrs. Walter Kellogg, Mrs. George Miller, Mrs. A. Scott Hamilton, Mrs. Wesley Shatto, Mrs. A. E. Montgomery, Mrs. R. D. Whitecotton, Mrs. E. H. Venable, Mrs. J. C. Earnest, and Mrs. C. P. Jarrell.

Wednesday, February 12, was a joyous day in the life of two lovely little girls, Marilyn and Selma Sue, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Corbin, who celebrated their first and fifth birthdays at the Monroe Garden Club Center.

A Valentine motif reflected in all the details. When the gifts were opened, Selma Sue presented each of her guests with personalized Valentines as favors. The table was centered with a heart-shaped cake, fluted with red ribbon and white lace, and a "happy birthday" inscription in the center. There were two birthday cakes, one at either end of the table. When the candles were lighted, the little guests sang "Happy Birthday."

Then delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Corbin, assisted by Mrs. J. B. Dawkins and Mrs. Ed Thomas to the following: Pasty Williams, Linda Broomfield, Linda and Glenda Rogers, Julia Ann Reagan, Sharon Peters, Sara Sue Stovall, Jerry Thomas, Billy Cornett, Carolyn Powers, Mary Claire Hanson, Charles Parker, Charlotte Hymer, Bobby Massengill, David Clifton, Diane Jordan, Ethel Myers, Betty Ann Preston, Jan and Kay Perkins, Julie and Joe Copeland, and Linda Humphries.

The mothers who were there to assist Mrs. Corbin and to see the young recipients receive felicitations were: Mrs. Willis Rogers, Mrs. Julian Reagan, Mrs. Wesley Peters, Mrs. Ed Thomas, Mrs. J. J. Preston, Mrs. Vernon Broomfield, Mrs. J. B. Dawkins, Mrs. W. A. Cornett, Mrs. Walter Powers, Mrs. H. V. Hanson, Mrs. Olive Packer, Mrs. Rex Hymer, Mrs. Homer Massengill, Mrs. H. Clifton, Mrs. Panky Jordan, Mrs. Marion Perkins, Mrs. O. B. Copeland, Mrs. Ethel Humphries, and Mrs. Addie Stovall.

MISS FREDDYE ELAINE REAMES BECOMES BRIDE OF EDWARD J. JOSEPH IN CEREMONY HERE

A wedding of interest to their many friends throughout Northeast Louisiana was that of Miss Freddye Elaine Reames, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Reames, and Mr. Edward J. Joseph, son of Ed Joseph, Sr., both of this city, which was solemnized at St. Matthew's Catholic church on Saturday, February 22.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Henry W. Hubley at the 8 a. m. mass before a large gathering of friends of the couple.

Miss Reames wore a grey House of Swansdown suit, with petite point hat haloed with purple and aqua trim. Patent accessories completed her ensemble and she wore a matching corsage of white carnations and purple lilycuffs.

Mrs. S. L. Fuller, Jr., of Shreveport, attired in a toast brown suit with brown accessories and wearing a corsage of Picardy gladioli, was the bride's only attendant. She is a sister of Mrs. Joseph.

The groom's attendant was Mr. Manier Cannon.

A wedding breakfast at the Virginia Hotel followed the ceremony. Following a short honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph are making their home at 1611 Jackson street.

Open House Is Charming Event Of Week

A charming interlude in last week's festivities honoring Miss Naidon and Mr. Finlayson was the conversational hour in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Haas with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wright, co-host and hostess. Beautiful flowers were everywhere in evidence, especially beautiful being the floral arrangement in the shape of a wedding bouquet centering the table in the dining room. Trays laden with canapés and hors d'oeuvres were placed for the convenience of the guests who were served champagne and cocktails throughout the evening.

Miss Naidon, the toast of the evening, wore a navy blue ensemble with a smart little hat of blue feathers and a corsage of pink carnations.

Those present were:

Mrs. Earl Naidon, Miss Charlotte Naidon, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Sholars, Mr. and Mrs. James Finlayson, Mrs. Vincent Cranshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowman, Miss Caroline Bruce, Miss Sandy Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Bruce, Miss Mary Brownrigg, Mr. Amon Carter, Jr., Mr. James Finlayson, Jr., Mr. Peter Vanderhoff, Mr. and Mrs. William Rudd, Mr. Don Campbell, Mr. Jim Helkind, Mr. Jim Alphin, Mrs. Kendrick James, Mr. Waldor Roberts, Mrs. Frank James, Miss Jane Kilpatrick, Mr. Louis Wilbert, Miss Vivian Harper, Mr. O. MRS. KENDRICK JAMES OF
HOUSTON IS HOSTESS AT BREAKFAST FOR HER NEICE

On her wedding morn' Miss Satchie Nalden was entertained at breakfast in the Cameo room of the Virginia hotel with her aunt, Mrs. James Kendrick James of Houston, Texas, hostess.

Many distinctive details characterized this lovely affair. Especially beautiful was the breakfast table serviced in silver and crystal and florally adorned with white stock overflowing from an immense silver bowl. Green satin ribbons radiating to either end of the table were caught to clusters of white wedding bells. The favors at each cover were miniature white satin bags filled with rice with the place cards attached.

The menu, carefully planned by the hostess featured grapefruit baskets filled with fresh strawberries and tied with sprays of white stock and green satin ribbons. The entree was baked ham a la newburg served with fresh asparagus tips and spiced apples. The dessert course was pineapple ice served with coffee.

The bride-elect took this opportunity to present her attendants with beautiful combs in silver monogrammed cases. The flower girl, Nancy Snellings received a gold bracelet with her name engraved on it.

Mrs. James presented Miss Nalden with a set of beautiful English china. In addition to the guest of honor those present were: Mrs. Earl Nalden, Mrs. Allan Sholars, Mrs. Frank James, Mrs. William Ridd, Mrs. Charles Bowman, Mrs. Vincent Crawshaw, Mrs. George Snellings, Jr., Mrs. James Finlayson, Miss Sandy Rowe, Miss Joyce Siegle, Miss Charlotte Nalden, Miss Dorothea Girault, Miss Vivyan Harper, Miss Caroline Bruce, Miss Mary Browning.

Federated Club Women To Meet In New York

An announcement of the dates June 23-28 for the annual convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held in the Commodore Hotel in New York City, was released from Washington headquarters today. Attention is called to the fact that the largest women's organization of its kind in the world is meeting in the largest city in the world and at the gateway of the United Nation's center of operations on behalf of which they are carrying on an elaborate educational program.

Attending delegates will represent more than 17,000 individual clubs and affiliated organizations, which include a combined membership of approximately 3 million women who are actively interested in all international and domestic legislation and increased citizenship participation in all communities.

Among the first women speakers to be announced are Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Mrs. Vera Micheles Dean, research director of the foreign policy association. Topics will concern the United Nations, UNESCO, the peace treaty, many other current domestic problems and the various interests directed by the departments of work: Citizenship, American Home, Education, Fine Arts, International Relations, Legislation, Post-War Planning, Public Welfare and Peace Service. Honors will also be bestowed upon Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt.

The Federation is already supporting in this Congress the International Trade Organization including opposition to the postponement of the preparatory committee meeting in Geneva; the International Refugee organization; National Representation for the District of Columbia; the Equal Rights amendment; the Public Library Demonstration bill and other educational legislation in accordance with policies outlined in resolutions previously adopted.

The executive committee of the General Federation consists of: Mrs. Lefell Dickinson, president; Mrs. J. L. Blair Buck, first vice-president; Mrs. Hiram C. Houghton, second vice-president; Mrs. Oscar A. Ahlgren, recording secretary; Mrs. Volney W. Taylor, treasurer; Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, chairman of the budget; Mrs. Thurston Roberts, dean of department chairmen; and Mrs. Sterling M. Ercanbrack, dean of state presidents.

Other members of the board include the 48 state presidents and those of Alaska and the District of Columbia; chairmen of departments of work, division; standing and special committees; extension secretary for junior clubs and extension secretary for foreign and territorial clubs.

There are at present some 60,000 younger women in the junior clubs belonging to the Federation and some 61 clubs in foreign countries.

Members of the board from Louisiana are Mrs. Samuel Levy of Natchitoches, president of the Louisiana

BUFFET SUPPER IN HARPER HOME FOLLOWS THE REHEARSAL OF WEDDING AT CHURCH

The hospitable home of Judge and Mrs. William Harper was in beautiful floral attire when they and their daughter, Miss Vivyan Harper, entertained the Naiden-Finlayson wedding party with a buffet supper following rehearsal at the Presbyterian Church. The evening characterized by many charming courtesies was quite informal permitting the guests to gather in friendly groups and toast the bride and groom-elect in champagne during the conversational hour before supper.

The dining room was candlelit and fragrant with the perfume of spring flowers banking the buffet and side tables. White sweet peas and white stock arranged with artistry, formed the central floral note of the silver served supper table.

Silver trays held a luscious assortment of viands with turkey and all the accessories the main course. Those present in addition to Miss Naiden and Mr. Finlayson were: Mr. and Mrs. James Finlayson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowman, Mrs. Frank James, Mr. and Mrs. William Rudd, Miss Jane Kilpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Sholars, Mrs. Earl Naiden, Mr. and Mrs. George Snellings, Jr., Miss Joyce Siegle, Miss Barbara Faulk, Miss Jane Rhymes, Miss Charlotte Naiden, Miss Sandy Rowe, Miss Mary Brownrigg, Miss Caroline Bruce, Mrs. Kentrick James, Mrs. Vincent Crawshaw, Miss Dorothea Girault, Messrs. Miss Van Is The Bride Of R. C. Perkins

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Mary Louise Van, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Van and Mr. Raymond Carlton Perkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Perkins in Rayville, La. The ceremony, a quiet one, with only the immediate family and a few intimate friends in attendance took place at the Presbyterian parsonage with the pastor, Rev. Carter, officiating.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Hollis C. Cruse and Mr. Perkins was attended by Mr. Aubrey Phillips.

The bride wore a lovely advanced spring model of azure blue crepe with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony the young couple left on a short honeymoon and are now at home with their friends at 1306 South Third street, this city.

The bride attended the Ouachita Parish high school and the bridegroom attended Northeast Junior college.

Mrs. B. F. Dunagan has returned from Gainesville, Ga., where she was summoned to the bedside of her mother.

Miss Marabeth Carbino of Massena, New York, is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Spight. Miss Carbino has been attending Boston University (after completing two years at Southern Seminary of Buena Vista, Virginia.) Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Carbino plan to motor down later to accompany the Spights on a motor trip to Mexico City and other points of interest in Texas and Mexico.

Dixie Chapter O. E. S. Observes Friendship Night

A regular meeting of Dixie Chapter No. 179, O. E. S., was held Monday night. The highlight of the evening was a beautiful program on Friendship. An impressive candlelight ceremony was carried out by the Star Points, each bearing a candle to the altar and reading a poem appropriate for her station. All officers had a special guests to whom they presented lovely gifts. At the close of the meeting, friendly groups gathered in the banquet room, where delicious refreshments were served from a beautiful decorated table. A key to friendship surrounded camellias and other colorful spring flowers were placed upon the lace covered table. Dixie chapter wishes to extend a cordial invitation to all members of the Eastern Star to attend the meetings on the 2nd and 4th Monday nights of each month.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. George Hemphill and Mrs. Freeda Mortensen have returned from New Orleans where they enjoyed the Mardi Gras season as the guests of Mrs. Mortensen's sister, Dr. Katherine Foster and her husband, Dr. Edward Foster. Enroute they visited Mr. and Mrs. Hemphill's son, Dennis, who is attending Jefferson Military academy in Natchez.

All under-graduates and practical nurses are requested to attend an important business meeting at the home of Mrs. C. P. Little, 2609 Gordon, on Wednesday at 3 p. m.

Mrs. Joe Swift is spending the week-end in Baton Rouge with her daughter, Miss Anglyn Swift, student at the state university. Mrs. Swift attended the postponed Mardi Gras ball on the campus and had the pleasure of seeing her daughter serve as one of the maids in the queen's court.

Miss Teresa Luna flew from her home in Lima, Peru, to join her sister, Miss Hortensia Luna in this city where they are both guests at the Frances hotel. Miss Hortensia Luna has been in this country since last June and is visiting Monroe for the purpose of studying agricultural extension programs. She spent a full week in company with the home demonstration agents, Mrs. Mildred Swift and Mrs. Jewel McQuillan, learning about the work in this parish. Breakfast was enjoyed in the home of Mrs. Robert Fennell and a visit made to the home of Mrs. J. W. Stanley, Mrs. Wayne McDonald was hostess at the Colony and luncheon was served at the country home of Mrs. Clara Gilliland. Other hostesses included Mrs. J. E. Rutledge, Mrs. William Davis, Mrs. J. S. Sims, Mrs. W. A. Calloway.

FARMERVILLE COUPLE WEDDED FIFTY YEARS

FARMERVILLE, March 1.—(Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Miller Edwards, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in Farmerville last Sunday.

Guests were greeted by the couple's four daughters, Mrs. Wiley Doss of Monroe; Mrs. B. D. Brumfield of Shreveport; and Mrs. Clyde Kenney a. J. Burle Aulds of Farmerville. A guest of honor was Mrs. Tom J. Hille of Marion, who served as maid of honor at the wedding a half century ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards are parents of seven children, the above named daughters and three sons, Jack and Ruelien Gray Edwards of Farmerville, and James M. Edwards of Kilgore, Texas, and fifteen grandchildren, all of whom were present except one grandson, Charles Kennedy.

The out-of-town guests were: Messrs. Garland, Arthur and J. A. Read, Dallas, Texas; Mr. O. L. Brumfield, Pineville; Miss Darline Corley and Mr. Don Kennedy, Greenwood; Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Beasley, Eastrop; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lockwood and son, Mrs. Ida Lee Clark, and Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Brumfield, Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kilgore, Mr. C. A. Harrison, Mrs. O. G. Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Doss and sons, Wayne and Jackie Doss of Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Bain, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sanders, Mr. J. E. Edwards, Houston, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. James M. Edwards and little daughter, Ann, of Kilgore, Texas, and Mrs. Tom J. Hill and Mrs. George W. Edwards, of Marion.

IN MOVIELAND

By Bob Thomas
HOLLYWOOD, March 1.—(P)—Gov. Jimmie Davis of Louisiana is working before the camera these days, and he is no advertisement for the Los Angeles chamber of commerce. He has a cold.

Fortified by cold shots, the Gov. was enacting a role in a movie which is titled, oddly enough, "Louisiana." He quickly disavowed his pretense to any academy awards, although he made films before his political career.

"I'm not kidding myself," he declared. "I'm no actor."

His excellency may be no ham, but he certainly ranks as a businessman. When asked if he was working on a straight salary or a percentage of the picture's profits, he answered: "I'm playing both ends." He'll also plug nine of his songs in the film, and that should add plenty to the take.

No copy cat is Gov. Davis. He hasn't seen a movie in 15 months.

Another returnee to the sound stages is Maureen O'Sullivan, who used to portray Irish colleens, as well as Tarzan's mate. Four and a half years ago, she gave up the brogues and chimpanzees and retired from the screen. Having borne three children, she ended her retirement this week for a role in "The Big Clock."

"I was nervous this morning," she said in a flower-bedecked dressing room which she said reminded her of a hospital maternity floor. "But I've been waiting most of the day to do something and now I'm getting bored." The actress, who is looking as beautiful as ever, said she had several things she swore she wouldn't do on her first day at work. One was calling the director "darling" right out in front of everybody. He's her husband, John Farrow.

Blinded by the glitter of the stars, we often overlook the amazing things done by men behind the scenes. For instance, the sound technicians.

The other day, I heard an actor read a line sloppily during a scene. When the take was over, the sound man said it would be all right, since he could insert the sound of "D" to a word which was mispronounced.

Al Jolson acknowledged his debt to soundmen for the singing in "The Jolson Story." He recorded some of the songs 80 times, and the various tracks were pieced together for a perfect version. And Bob Hope tells me that when some of his lines in "My Favorite Brunette" didn't click with preview audiences, they were changed entirely, without refilming the scenes. Deucedly clever, these sound guys.

The albatross is said to have the widest wingspread of all birds. The wings sometimes measure 17 feet from tip to tip.

RABIES CLINICS OPENING MONDAY

Starting April 1, All Dogs Not Tagged Will Be Impounded

The rabies clinics for the vaccination and registration of all dogs in Ouachita parish is scheduled to begin Monday, March 3. These clinics are conducted by licensed veterinarians who are residents of this parish. The fee for the vaccination and registration is $1.50.

Beginning April 1, 1947, all dogs not wearing a tag showing recent vaccination will be impounded, and if not claimed in five days will be destroyed. Prior to the inauguration of the Rabies control program in March, 1944, rabies in animals was becoming a serious health problem in this parish. During the winter of 1943-44, and until May, 1944, there were 25 positive rabies reports on dogs, foxes, cats, and calves in this parish. During the year 1944, a total of 28 animal heads were examined for rabies in the laboratory of the Health Department. In 1945, 28 heads were examined, and in 1946, 6 heads were examined, all negative.

In 1943, 27 persons were given anti-rabies treatment by the health unit; in 1944, 33 people received treatment; in 1945, 9 people were treated; and in 1946, only 1 person was treated.

The following is a schedule for the clinics for the parish:

FARMERVILLE SCOUTS, FATHERS AT BANQUET

The Lions Club of Farmerville, honored the Scouts and their fathers which sponsors Boy Scout troop 16, with a banquet Thursday night at the Farmerville American Legion home, with R. V. Rivers, president of the club, presiding. The banquet was attended by 75 Scouts and fathers.

The program was opened with the singing of "America" followed by the Pledge to the Flag, and Rev. Tom Roberts gave the invocation. A very inspirational address was delivered by Mr. Tony Booth, local civic and church leader, assistant Scout executive Sam L. Hartman stated. Mr. Booth's subject was "Gratitude" and it was well received, Mr. Hartman said.

Mr. Hartman and Scoutmaster Elton Albright urged the attendance of all boys and the help of parents with the Scouting program. At this time a new film "The Scout Trail to Citizenship" was shown. Rev. Louis Tucker then closed the meeting with the benediction.

This Father and Son banquet is to be an annual affair, and with the help of parents the Scout troop of Farmerville should be one of the most active in the council, Mr. Hartman concluded.

Miss Maude Elsie Coon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Coon of West Monroe, whose engagement and approaching marriage to Mr. Thomas Warren Mitchell, son of Reverend and Mrs. A. T. Mitchell of West Monroe is announced today. The wedding will take place March 21 at Ridge Avenue Baptist Church.

INFANT IS BORN TO HEDY LAMARR

HOLLYWOOD, March 1.—(P)—Hedy Lamarr, dark-haired screen star, gave birth to a baby boy, weighing seven pounds 14 ounces, by Cesarean operation today. She is the wife of Actor John Loder.

Miss Lamarr entered Good Samaritan Hospital last night and went into the operating room at 8:15 a. m. today. Her beaming husband said the condition of both mother and son was "wonderful." He will be named Anthony John Loder said.

It is their second child. The first, a girl, Denise, will be two years old in May. They also have an adopted boy, Jamesie, eight years old.

Miss Lamarr is the former wife of Producer Gene Markey.

P. T. A. CONDUCTS FEBRUARY SESSION

An interesting and instructive candle lighting ceremony called "Burn Candles, Burn" marked the celebration of Founders' Day at the Georgia Tucker P. T. A. February meeting. Mrs. C. P. Gray, Jr., Mrs. Mike Tarver, Mrs. Paul Blackman, Mrs. Kenneth Inabinet, Mrs. Joe Haddad, Mrs. Briscoe Trousdale, Mrs. Edwin Crowley, Mrs. "Skeeter" Morgan, Mrs. Lynton Cook, Mrs. T. H. Scott, Mrs. Shep Girault, Mrs. Corbin Turpin, and Mrs. E. J. Whitman took part on the program.

The meeting was opened by the P. T. A. prayer, led by Miss Myrtle Rodgers, principal of Georgia Tucker school. After the reading of the minutes and other routine business, a nominating committee was elected for the selection of officers for 1947-1948. Those elected were Mesdames L. Shlenker, Jim Harris, Arthur Kite, P. S. Massey and Tom Davis.

Miss Myrtle Rodgers reported that the plans for the new cafeteria were now in Baton Rouge awaiting approval by the state department.

Mrs. S. A. Collins announced that she had had two talks with Mayor Benoit and he had agreed to construct a sidewalk on which the children could wait for the bus, and that concrete would be poured as soon as weather permitted.

Mrs. Lester Waddell gave the national president's message. At the conclusion of the meeting, a beautiful birthday cake, commemorating the 50th anniversary of the Parent-Teacher's

PLAN GRADUATE RECORD TESTS

Tech Designated As Center By Office In New York City

RUSTON, La., March 1.—(Special)—Louisiana Tech has been designated as a graduate record examination center by the National Graduate Record office in New York City, according to Miss Sallie Robison, Tech student guidance director, who is in charge of the examinations given periodically at the college here.

"A large number of graduate schools are now developing the examination by making use of its findings as auxiliary evidence in admitting students," Miss Robison said.

Tests now included in the graduate record examination constitute a comprehensive series of tools for the objective measurement of certain forms of intellectual achievement in the advanced fields of collegiate and early graduate education.

The tests originated as a cooperative undertaking of the graduate schools of Harvard, Yale, Princeton, and Columbia universities, according to Miss Robison.

First of the examinations given at Louisiana Tech were to students who plan to study medicine. Next regular examination, Miss Robison said, will be given early in May for students and members of the faculty who plan to do graduate work this summer or fall.

TEA GIVEN TO HONOR VISITORS

Misses Luna Of Lima, Peru, Special Guests At McQuiller Home

The beautiful home of Mrs. Jewel L. McQuiller, Ouchita parish home demonstration agent, was thrown open for a tea on Thursday afternoon to honor Misses Hortensia Luna and Theresia Luna, sisters of Lima, Peru. Miss Hortensia Luna is spending a year in the United States to make a study of agricultural extension program and 4-H club work. Aiding Mrs. McQuiller as hostess, were members of the Logtown and Liberty Home Demonstration clubs.

From 3:30 to 5 p. m. large throngs of people, 4-H club workers, home demonstration leaders and agricultural extension workers thronged through the house to meet and discuss matters with Miss Luna, who, in perfectly good English and a broadly comprehensive understanding of her subject, delighted all who had the privilege of meeting her. Her personality and that of her sister was of the highest type of cultural South Americans.

The spacious rooms of the McQuiller home were pleasantly decorated with carnations and other seasonal flowers and guests were invited to the dining room where a beautifully arranged table, with its lace hand embroidered cover, and elaborate silver services, greeted the guests. In the center of the table was an attractive floral display.

Mrs. W. A. Calloway of the Logtown club poured at one end of the table while Mrs. J. L. Parker of the Liberty club was stationed to pour at the other end. Attractive young women from these two clubs dispersed confections to the assemblage.

Miss Luna speaks English with fluency and her education has included extended studies in Peruvian institutions and also she is a graduate of The Sorbonne in Paris. She expressed sincere interest in all that concerns the American way of life and said that her sojourn in the United States should prove helpful when she returns home and tackles problems of agricultural extension work.

DISTRICT LIONS SEE BRENNAN MIDGET CAR GO 108 MPH IN GYM

OAK GROVE, March 1.—(Special)—The Oak Grove Lions Club entertained Lions and Lionesses of Zone No. 4, District 8-A, with a ladies' night banquet here Wednesday evening.

Zone Chairman Russell Stroud was in charge of meeting, which was attended by 142 guests, representing clubs from Lake Providence, Tallulah, Delhi, Mer Rouge and Oak Grove.

Mayor D. B. Fiske of Oak Grove, past president of the local organization, gave an address of welcome, to which John Dean, president of the Lake Providence club, responded. District Governor D. W. McBride spoke on the purposes and accomplishments of the Lions club, urging interest in the state convention to be held in Alexandria May 5 and 6, and in the national convention in San Francisco the last of July.

Fran Brennan of Monroe, deputy district governor, entertained with midget automobile races in the high school gymnasium, where the meeting was held. The winning car attained a speed of 108.2 miles per hour.

LUNCHEON TO PLAN AID TO CRIPPLED

The board of directors of the Ouchita unit of the Louisiana Society for Crippled Children will have a luncheon in Hotel Francis Monday noon. All members of this group are urged to attend.

The meeting will give attention to the plans for the Easter Seal campaign and other efforts in behalf of the crippled children's projects.

Boyle's Notebook

Hal Boyle

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 1.—(P)—For perhaps the first time since this golf coast resort was founded only one winter resident rode to Palm Beach this year in his own private railroad car.

Several arrived in rented railroad cars, a sad commentary on the compromises that evil income taxes have forced upon the rich. In the old days you either wheeled up in your own chummy modified pullman, or else you jolly well slunk down to Miami Beach where you belonged. None of these drive-it-yourself makeshift coach cars when society was really society.

The sole arrival on the grand scale was brightly Robert R. Young, president of the Chesapeake & Ohio line, who is currently cutting as wide a swath through Palm Beach society as he does in railroad financing.

Social lions here vary with the times. One season grande dames may vie in exhibiting white Russian princes reduced to peddling the last rhinestones they borrowed from the late czar. A decade later two-headed Austrian princes may be all the vogue. This season visiting English aristocrats were in fashion.

"It's been quite a British year—just lousy with titles," said one observer versed in Palm Beach lore. "They've been all over the place."

Young sited through the first mad rush of shivering monocoed fugitives from the British labor government and nailed as his house guests the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

That "this railroad fellow"—a comparative parvenu—should reel in the season's prize social catches in just another indication of how society here is changing. It was one more blow to the old guard.

Since the prime of stately Mrs. Edward Sloatesbury, Palm Beach has had no real social dictator and the grand balls and fetes of a more formal generation have become less important.

The resort is in a state of genteel flux. With the movement toward smaller houses many wealthy residents sold their private railroad cars during the war and bought private planes. Many also moved out to small exclusive nearby resorts like Hobe Sound, thus further de-centralizing high society.

"These people just want to live quiet lives and go around to each other's houses," one lady told me. "One change that has taken place here is the increased society interest in culture—in art, lectures and musical events. They do something besides going to cocktail parties and dinners."

Whether this cultural cheerleading is a sign of health or post-war desperation on the part of the upper classes I cannot say. They are seeking something to replace the old ordered boredom of the halcyon days of society, when those who belonged could put themselves to sleep clipping bond coupons instead of counting sheep.

Some residents see a further decadence of Palm Beach society in the success of a public night club that opened this season. Night clubs, they used to think here, were for Miami Beach people who didn't know how to entertain well in their own homes.

Sorely mourned by the old guard is the dominant figure of Col. Edward R. Bradley, the millionaire sportsman, and the famous Beach Club that lapsed with his death.

"Palm Beach misses Col. Bradley and, quite frankly, it misses a first class gambling joint," I was told. "The Beach Club had the best food and gambling in the world. Its closing took a lot out of Palm Beach life."

Its days of social dominion may be passing with the growth of a more flexible and wider ranging American social life, but Palm Beach still bears the stamp of dignity and elegance that made it famous. It has a quality of rich simplicity that sets it apart from more strident resorts. Palm Beach achieves glamor without clamor.

TRINITY CHURCH PLANS TO BUILD

West Monroe Congregation To Erect Structure Costing $53,000

Trinity Baptist Church, now meeting in the 100 block of Reagan street, West Monroe, will at once break ground at Jonesboro road and Reagan street for their new brick church edifice to cost $53,000. An OPA permit was issued in New Orleans last Thursday for the building construction.

Rev. F. J. Seal, pastor, states that the building will be of solid brick masonry and will be built by day labor.

The auditorium will be 42 by 61 feet and there will be an addition of "L" which will be 42 by 72 feet and will house the 25 classrooms of the educational building.

This church has 500 members and is growing rapidly requiring more space and improved facilities. When the new church building is completed, the present church on Reagan street will be altered so as to provide a parsonage for the pastor.

PRISONERS TAKEN BACK TO MEMPHIS

W. D. Plunk, 49, former West Monroe used car dealer and filling station operator who was rearrested by sheriff's deputies two weeks ago on a fugitive warrant, and Herschel Murray Fountain, 22, an itinerant magazine salesman caught here last Wednesday with a jeep he admitted he had stolen at Memphis, Tenn., were turned over by Sheriff Milton Coverdale Friday to two Memphis detectives to be taken to that city for trial in state courts.

After being arrested here last summer at the request of police at Memphis, where he was alleged to have given a bogus check for $900 in payment for an auto, Plunk disappeared and the $1,000 bond he had posted for his release was declared forfeit. He later was charged with the theft of a car belonging to Otis McIntosh of this parish and with having given another bad check for an auto at Ruston.

Because of the Memphis police department's prior claim, the F. B. I. did not charge Fountain under the Dyer act in federal court here, in connection with transportation of the stolen jeep across state lines, but a full report on the case was said to have been forwarded to the Tennessee F. B. I. headquarters.

TREE PLANTING DRAWS THROG

Machine Used To Plant Pines Near Louisiana Tech Farm

RUSTON, La., March 1.—(Special)—About 375 people viewed the demonstration of a pine tree planting machine recently near the Louisiana Tech farm. Among those present were foresters from Louisiana, south Arkansas and East Texas, numerous farmers of north Louisiana, forest land owners, business men, students of the School of Agriculture and Forestry of Louisiana Tech and students of the School of Agriculture at Northwestern of Natchitoches, and vocational agricultural high school students from Dubach, Simsboro, Hico and Ruston.

This demonstration was sponsored by the North Louisiana Group of Foresters, in cooperation with the department of forestry at Tech. The tree planting machine was demonstrated by George W. Mosley, a forestry graduate of the University of Georgia, and by John P. Carroll, a forestry graduate of the University of Michigan. Assisting in the demonstration was Charles G. Hobgood of the soil division of the department of agriculture at Tech, and Ernest J. Russell and Lloyd P. Blackwell of the Tech department of forestry.

During the exhibition, slash, loblolly and longleaf pine seedlings were planted. Under a speed run test, 100 seedlings were planted in two and one half minutes. Under good planting and operating conditions in North Louisiana, using a spacing of 8 ftx8 ft, between seedlings, the machine could plant 10,000 seedlings a day, or about 18 acres of planting, it was explained.

Those present reportedly were interested in the case by which seedlings were planted and were impressed by the firmness by which the roots of the seedlings were tamped into the soil.

This was the first demonstration of this type of planting machine west of the Mississippi river, it was reported.

TO LEAVE KOREA

Lt. John D. Rushing, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rushing, Spencer, La., who has been in occupational duty in Korea for two years, will return home soon and plans to enter college this fall. He enlisted soon after he graduated from high school in 1944.

SENATOR OVERTON SAYS WANT ADS PAY

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(P)—Add the name of Senator Overton, Democrat, Louisiana, to those who say it pays to use want ads.

The senator advertised for a stenographer in a Washington newspaper and today nearly 100 women and two men formed a long line leading to the locked doors of Overton's quarters in the Senate office building.

Reached by telephone, the senator asserted that "I had no idea so many people wanted jobs. They've swamped me."

He added that the post would net the winning applicant $4,500 annually.

IF IT'S VALUE YOU WANT

It's the newest Plymouth! Here's the one car in the lowest price field that gives you 20 of 21 features found in cars costing hundreds of dollars more.

No other car gives you all of Plymouth's quality features at Plymouth's low price. And Value, it's agreed, is created by the quality you get at the price you pay. So no other car at any price can give you the Top Value found in Plymouth.

Even some high-priced cars don't have the basic advances exclusive with Plymouth in the low-priced field. Safety-Rim Wheels, for instance. They're unequalled protection in case of tire failure.

Safe-Guard Hydraulic Brakes, another example, combine light-touch action with a third more braking power.

And the Plymouth advantage climbs higher the more you compare! Isn't that the Value you're looking for?

CRIPPLED GET AID BY GIFTS

R. L. Ross Jr. Gives Full Report To Monroe Lions Club

A synopsis of the report to the Lions Club of R. L. Ross Jr., chairman of the Ouachita unit of the Louisiana Society for Crippled Children, shows 88 cases recommended for hospitalization; and of these there were hospitalized 61 cases; hospital days provided were 994, and clinic visits totaled 1,077.

Mr. Ross stated that the purpose of his appearance before the Lions Club was to better acquaint with the aid being given crippled children and adults affiliated with the national Society for Crippled Children. This is, he said, the oldest organization of its kind in the country and has helped alleviate suffering among the physically handicapped and has acquired a record that each contributor can feel has done the maximum amount of good.

The work, he explained, is financed by the annual Easter Seal sale and the figures cited above were made possible through Easter Seal sale money.

It is understood that the Crippled Children's section of the state of Louisiana conducts the clinic and that the society's funds were available and used in making the program complete. Braces, walkers, shoes, medication and transportation for patients were made available. There were served 1,077 lunches at the clinic and there is sponsored a school for the handicapped where 11 children are enrolled. Mention also was made of the Christmas tree which is sponsored each year for these children.

Mr. Ross stressed that all who donate to the Crippled Children project may rest assured that every dollar donated will go directly into the cause for which it is given. There are no salaries paid to individuals who work year in and year out for this worthy project.

OFFICIALS ASK RED CROSS AID

Mayor Benoit And President Montgomery Laud Unselfish Group

The month of March being dedicated to the Red Cross, the following proclamation has been issued by Mayor H. H. Benoit and President A. E. Montgomery, of the Ouachita Parish Police Jury:

The month of March is dedicated to the American Red Cross.

The 1947 Fund Campaign for Ouachita Parish must achieve a goal of $40,000.00 if the services of our Ouachita Parish Chapter are to be maintained. This is a Parish-wide campaign, and every citizen of the Parish should want to share in the service and accomplishments of Red Cross by giving generously to the fulfillment of its needs.

Many times throughout the years the people of Ouachita Parish and Twin Cities of the Ouachita have called upon the American Red Cross for help in times of flood, drought, and public suffering during years of economic depression. The response of Red Cross has been unflinching always; and through its constant readiness to render aid in disasters and emergencies the lives of many of our people have been saved, and the need and suffering of countless hundreds of others of our people have been alleviated. The fund campaign of the Ouachita Parish Chapter of the American Red Cross has our unqualified endorsement, and it is our hope that it will have the full support of all our people. Give! Give now! Give generously!

H. H. BENOIT, Mayor, City of Monroe.
D. C. GOLSON, Mayor, City of West Monroe.
A. E. MONTGOMERY, President, Ouachita Parish Police Jury.

OPTIMIST CLUB'S MEETING IS HELD

Members of the Monroe Optimist Club, at the regular weekly luncheon Friday, were entertained by Miss Betty Rinehart, who rendered several selections which were heartily enjoyed. Mrs. Jack Willis was accompanied.

TENSAS LEVEE BOARD APPROPRIATES LAND FOR BIG CREEK WORK

RAYVILLE, Mar. 1.—(Special)—The Tensas basin levee district, board of commissioners has agreed to meet all requirements and conditions laid down by the New Orleans U. S. district engineer in the matter of the proposed channel improvements on Big creek. The project covers 26 miles, and affects both Richland and Franklin parishes.

One of the conditions stipulated by the district engineer was that the board "secure all necessary rights-of-way, upon, over and across contiguous property and, further, that the United States, its agents and employees, be held blameless for any and all damages resulting from the proposed construction."

By resolution the board assured the district engineer that all specifications, as contained in his letter of Jan. 21, would be met, and that all property lying adjacent to Big creek, and necessary in the channel work "be and the same is hereby appropriated."

More than 50,000 different useful things are made from rubber.

About—

$6100<sup>00</sup>

Features of Construction

Copper piping, automatic hot water tanks, Crane and Standard plumbing fixtures. All exposed water pipes insulated. All hardwood floors. All exterior is white asbestos shingle siding. Plenty closets and storage. Copper screen doors and windows. Concrete foundation piers. Recessed wall heaters in bath. Sheet rock walls and ceilings. All exterior porch steps are concrete. Exterior walls are all storm sheathed. Side walks. All walls are diagonally and horizontally braced with fire stops. 10-year roofs. Lots 70x150.

One home is completely furnished and will also be open for inspection along with the other four.

These homes were built with the idea of relieving housing shortage, giving the veteran an opportunity to buy his own home at actual cost as if he would build it himself. This idea was conceived by Congressman Otto E. Passman who has worked diligently to complete this project.

DEDICATION:

Each of these houses have been dedicated to World War veterans who made the supreme sacrifice. Names were selected by a committee set up for this honor.

IMPRESSIVE PROGRAM:

A program of dedication has been arranged with care and great consideration and the public is urged to attend.

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

OF MONROE

"REVIVE US AGAIN"

Our annual Spring Revival will be March 5-16. Dr. J. W. Storer, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Tulsa, Okla., will deliver his first message Wednesday night, March 5. His messages will challenge us to faithful attendance on all services; to earnest, believing prayer; to deeper personal consecration; and to Spirit-directed effort to win the lost to Christ and to obedience to His will.

What a feast is in store for us! Hear Dr. Storer once and you will let nothing short of absolute necessity hinder you from hearing him every time. You will invite your friends and neighbors—especially those who are lost and Baptists who should transfer their membership to us. Our teachers will look after their pupils; parents will see that their children attend; our Training Union will put into practice the things they have been learning.

CHOIR MEMBERS WILL BE IN THEIR PLACES EVERY NIGHT — DEACONS TOO — USHERS ALSO

*"Revive us again; fill each heart with thy love:
May each soul be rekindled with fire from above."*

The Red Cross drive is on... why?

Yes, the war is over.

But the Red Cross war against misery and suffering never ends. In peace, as in war, the Red Cross keeps on fighting—fighting for human happiness and welfare all over the world.

ASK THE VICTIMS OF DISASTER. Hurricanes, floods and epidemics strike at thousands of American families every year. This year, as always, the Red Cross will be there—with emergency medical aid for the injured : : : food, clothing and shelter for the homeless : : : rehabilitation for the needy War against human suffering never ends!

ASK OUR WOUNDED VETERANS. They know at firsthand how the Red Cross helps them through their suffering, and makes their days less drab. Right now, the Red Cross is providing thousands with guidance in personal and family problems : : : furnishing representation for their claims : : : aiding readjustment to civilian life.
Concern for our veterans' welfare never ends!

ASK OUR GIs. The Red Cross is a link with home. It helps maintain the GIs' morale with recreational programs and many personal services.
The need for this touch of home continues!

ASK THE VICTIMS OF ACCIDENTS. Every year, 100,000 are killed and 10,000,000 injured by accidents in the U.S. Red Cross First Aid, Water Safety, and Accident Prevention programs help reduce this tragic toll.
The war on accidents never ends!

... So the Red Cross asks you to Give!

For this vital, humanitarian work, the Red Cross needs your help. Your contributions will help thousands of our fellow-Americans—many of them in our own community.

So, won't you give now to the American Red Cross? It depends on you : : : just as countless Americans will depend on it. We know you won't let them down!

GIVE—so your RED CROSS

DICK TRACY

T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

TWO SINISTER FIGURES WATCH THE ARRIVAL OF DR. DORRE, HIS DAUGHTER BETTY, AND CAPTAIN EASY AT CAMPECHE, YUCATAN.

LET'S GET BUSY AT ONCE, CAPTAIN EASY! I'M ANXIOUS TO START FOR THE MAYAN RUINS AT QUICHAN ITZA AS SOON AS POSSIBLE!

DORRE'S GOT A RUGGED FRIEND WITH HIM, SNAGG!

IF WE CAN PERSUADE THE NATIVE INDIANS TO LISTEN TO US, WE NEEDN'T WORRY ABOUT DORRE'S FRIEND, NIX!

I HOPE THE INDIANS DON'T GET IDEAS ABOUT THE TREASURE, TOO!

PREPARATIONS FOR THE EXPEDITION ARE QUICKLY COMPLETED.

WHAT IF WE DON'T FIND THE VALUABLES THE MAYANS THREW IN THE SACRIFICIAL WELL, FATHER?

I THINK WE WILL, BETTY! THE OLD INSCRIPTIONS I DECIPHERED SAID THEY WERE REMOVED BUT I BELIEVE THEY'RE NOT FAR AWAY!

I UNDERSTAND THE INDIANS HERE ARE MAYAN DESCENDANTS-- COULD THEY HELP US?

NO, CAPTAIN... ALTHOUGH THEY STILL CLING TO MANY ANCIENT BELIEFS, THEY REALLY KNOW LITTLE OF THEIR PAST HISTORY!

FOLLOWING AT A SAFE DISTANCE, SNAGG AND NIX STOP AT A NATIVE VILLAGE.

OUR FRIEND FROM THE NORTH, DR. DORRE, RETURNS? WHY SHOULD I INTERFERE WITH A MAN WHO LOVES THE STUDY OF MY FORE-FATHERS?

BECAUSE, CHIEF, HE'S PLANNING TO STEAL THE TREASURES OF YOUR ANCIENT GODS!

THE GODS WILL BE ANGRY WITH US FOR NOT GUARDING THE TEMPLES!

THAT'S RIGHT, TELA... AND YOU CAN WIN FAVOR WITH THEM BY-- ER-- DISCOURAGING DR. DORRE!

BUT WHAT CAN I DO? I AM ONLY A GIRL!

TELL THE MEN HELPING DORRE THAT IT IS BAD LUCK TO ROB MAYAN TEMPLES, TELA! AND DORRE HAS GUNS-- YOU MUST SEE THAT HE LOSES THEM!

THERE'S DORRE'S CAMP!

AH! A YOUNG MAN IS WITH THE DOCTOR! AND A GIRL! I LIKE THE MAN, BUT HER I DO NOT LIKE!

WELL, MACK, FOR PITY'S SAKE, DON'T HUMOR IT!

COLDS ARE MOSTLY MENTAL -- I NEVER HAVE ONE BECAUSE I REFUSE TO LET MY MIND TOY WITH THE IDEA!

WISH I HAD A HEAD OF SOLID BARBLE LIKE YOURS!

MY WORD! DON'T TELL ME YOU HAVE A COLD, TOO!

KA-CHOO!

OH, DOE -- JUST TRY TO IBITATE A STEAB ENGINE!

EGAD, BUSTER! IF YOU'D JUST IGNORE IT, A COLD NEVER WOULD GET YOU DOWN -- THAT'S MY SYSTEM!

THE TROUBLE WITH YOU IS YOU ENCOURAGE A COLD BY THINKING ABOUT IT!

AW, DUTS!

I'LL SEE IF THAT BIG MOOSE'S THEORIES ARE JUST A LOT OF WHISTLE STEAM!

PEPPER

THOSE FELLOWS CERTAINLY ARE JUVENILE -- SURRENDERING TO A RUNNY NOSE!

KA-CHOO!

EGAD, MARTHA! I MUST HAVE CAUGHT IT FROM THOSE DRATTED BOARDERS -- LET'S CALL A DOCTOR -- IT FEELS LIKE PNEUMONIA!

TAKE THIS, YOU BIG JELLYFISH, AND SHUT UP!

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

1 IN HIS MAD PLAN TO KIDNAP JANE GREYSTOKE, THE SCOURGE DID NOT COUNT ON THE GRIM TENACITY OF HER JUNGLE-BRED HUSBAND IN ATTEMPTING A RESCUE.

2 WITH THE ADDED WEIGHT OF THE APE-MAN, THE HELICOPTER HAD TROUBLE IN GAINING ALTITUDE. THE SCOURGE, AN EXCELLENT PILOT, FOUGHT THE CONTROLS.

3 WITH UTMOST DIFFICULTY, TARZAN CLUNG TO THE SMOOTH FUSELAGE AGAINST THE FORCE OF THE WIND AND GRADUALLY INCHED HIS WAY TO THE TOP.

4 HANGING ON, HE REACHED DOWN AND SMASHED THE CABIN'S WINDOW WITH HIS KNIFE-HILT, STARTLED THE PILOT, JERKED HIS GAZE FROM THE INSTRUMENT PANEL.

5 THE APE-MAN WAS IN HIS ELEMENT. WHAT WAS A MERE MAN COMPARED TO THE JUNGLE BEAST HE HAD FOUGHT? A SMASHING BLOW TO THE SCOURGE'S CHIN ENDED THE CONTEST.

6 THE POWER-MAD LEADER KNEW NOW HIS DETERMINED PURSUER WAS ON THE SHIP. CAUTIOUSLY HE THURST HIS GUN OUT OF THE WINDOW TO TAKE AIM.

7 THE SCOURGE DID EXACTLY WHAT TARZAN EXPECTED. WHEN THE BLACK AUTOMATIC CAME TO VIEW, TARZAN WRENCHED IT FROM HIS HAND AND PITCHED IT INTO THE VOID.

8 A MOMENT LATER, HE CATAPULTED THROUGH THE WINDOW, FEET FIRST. TARZAN HELD THE ADVANTAGE BECAUSE THE PILOT HAD TO WATCH THE SHIP AS WELL AS HIS ADVERSARY.

9 TARZAN HEARD JANE BREATHE HIS NAME AND KNEW SHE HAD RECOVERED FROM HER FAINT. FASTEN YOUR SAFETY BELT, DARLING, HE SAID. WE'RE GOING TO CRASH!

10 BUT THEY DID NOT CRASH! JANE COULD FLY A HELICOPTER. "WHERE TO, MY LORD?" SHE SMILED. "SAFETY?" BUT TARZAN SHOOK HIS HEAD. "WE MUST GO BACK TO HELP THE OTHERS!"

11 BACK ON THE AIR STRIP, TARZAN SAID: "WELL DONE, MY BEAUTIFUL AVIATRIX! WITH THE SCOURGE IN OUR POWER, WE HAVE THE SITUATION WELL IN HAND!"

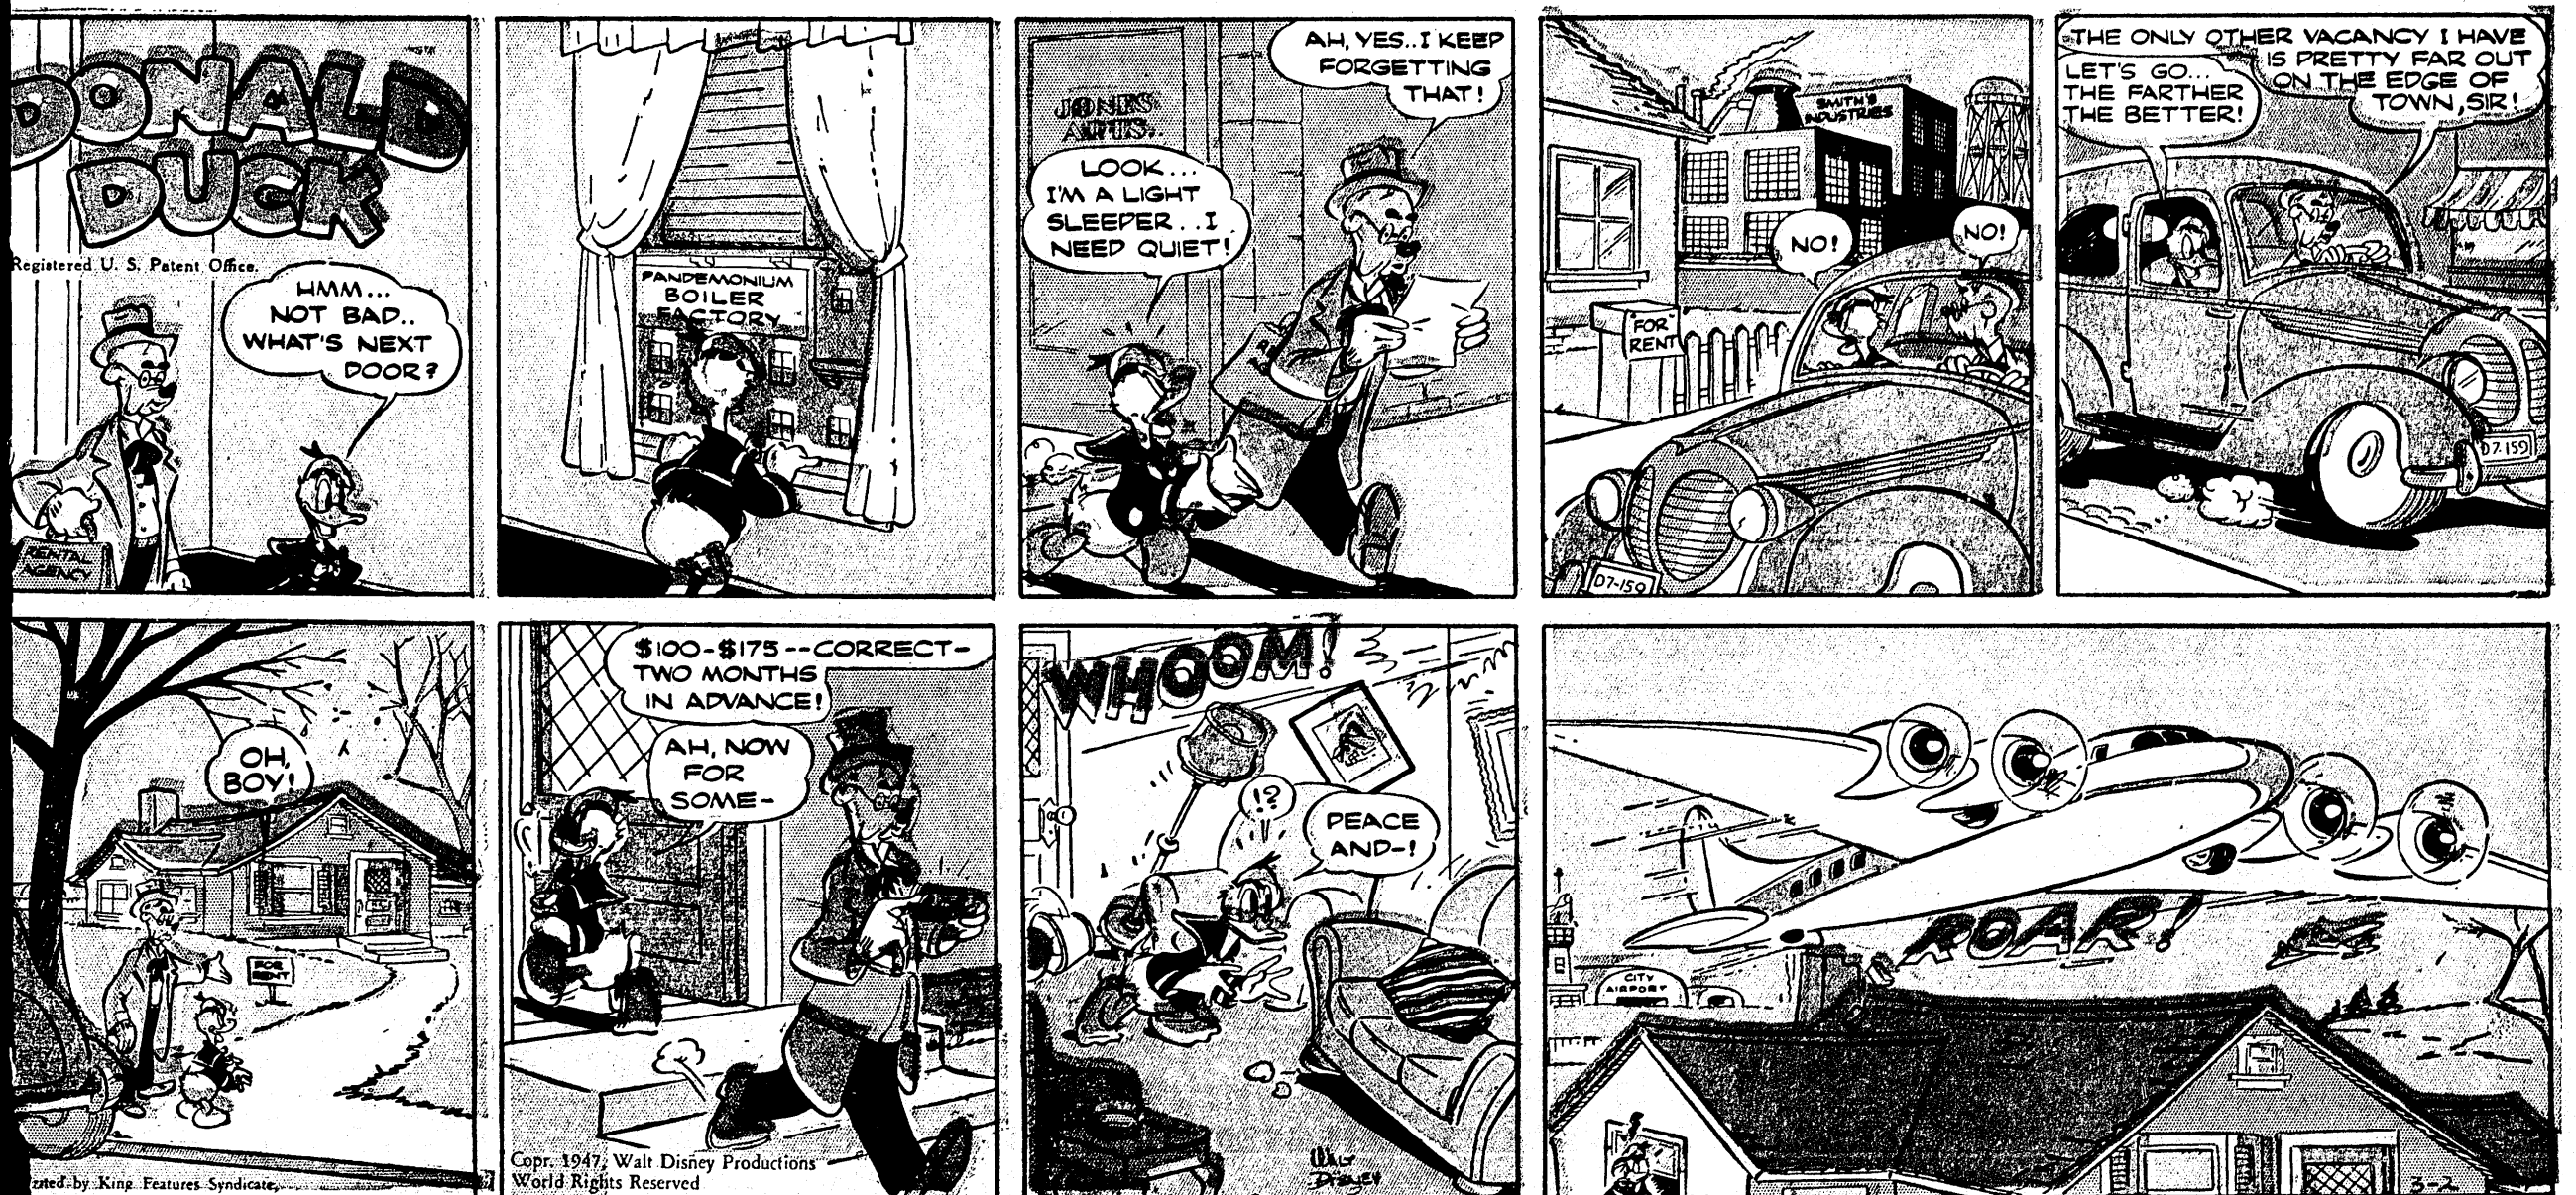

12 TARZAN COULD FLY A PLANE, BUT HE KNEW NOTHING OF HELICOPTERS. HE JERKED THE UNCONSCIOUS PILOT FROM HIS SEAT AND TRIED TO RIGHT THE SPINNING SHIP.

It's Here!... The Greatest Suds Discovery in 2000 Years!

New Woolens

WASH SOFTER, FLUFFIER THAN EVER BEFORE!
Those precious woolens of yours are a joy when washed with Dreft. No soapy deposit to coarsen woolens and dim their colors. Your beautiful new sweaters and baby things wash softer than ever before! Yes, softer and fluffier than with even the finest soap flakes!

Dishes Shine Without Wiping!

It's True! No soap in the world can perform the dishwashing miracles Dreft can! It makes dishes positively gleam without wiping.
No Streaks! For Dreft leaves no streaks or cloudiness the way all soaps do. Even glasses sparkle—without touching a towel to them! And Dreft is kind to hands!

PROCTER & GAMBLE'S dreft
BRINGS YOU
FASTER, BRIGHTER, SAFER CLEANING
THAN ANY SUDS BEFORE IN HISTORY!

Lingerie

STAYS BRIGHTER! FRESHER!
NO SOAP-FADING!

Dreft's gentle suds are milder to colors than any soap or soap flakes in the world! And what's more, there's no soap film to cause fading. Dreft suds will keep your dainty colored slips, blouses and "undies" bright and fresh far longer than any soap you ever used!

Stockings

LOOK LOVELIER THAN WITH ANY SOAP!
You'll marvel at the way Dreft leaves no soap film to heavy-up hose and cloud their beauty. And colors stay fresh and new-looking far longer than with any soap. No wonder stockings look lovelier—wear longer—with nightly Dreft-washing!

dreft

WORKS WONDERS NO SOAP
IN THE WORLD CAN MATCH!

No Soap-Fading! Now you can wash stockings, lingerie, woolens—knowing that with Dreft there's no cloudy film to cause soap-fading!

Dishes Shine—Even Without Wiping! With Dreft no dish towel is needed for wiping or polishing.

Instant Suds—More Suds! In cool water, in hardest water—Dreft suds come billowing up instantly. And Dreft suds last so long!
